Fund Pledges Pass 57%; $90,000 by Steelworkers

By GARY SCHNEIDER Press-Record Staff Writer

Large contributions and pledges by employees of Granite City Steel Co., A. O. Smith Corp., and American Steel Foundries brought the Tri-Cities United Fund campaign past the halfway mark, volunteers were told during the second weekly report meeting yesterday at the YMCA.

Heading the list of contributions and pledges was $90,000 from Granite City Steel Co. workers, a 20% increase over last year's donation.

The $90,000 contribution is believed to be the largest single donation ever given to the United Fund here. Also boosting the total were a $12,000 pledge from American Steel Foundries workers and $20,000 from A. O. Smith employees.

The American Steel contribution marked a 45% average increase for each salaried employee and a 25% average increase by each hourly worker. The A. O. Smith pledge was 54% higher than the $13,000 contributed last year to the United Fund.

These and other donations increased the total given or pledged to the United Fund to $237,110, or 57.4% of the goal.

At the previous week's reporting session, $107,906, or 26.1% of the drive's $413,661 goal had been reached.

Henry D. Karandjeff, honorary chairman of the drive, expressed optimism over the figures thus far.

"I think we are getting ready for a real celebration not too far from now," he told the volunteers.

Karandjeff said the progress of the campaign shows that people of the Quad-City area have much of which to be proud.

"Pride is the big thing. Pride that we have these fine industries. Pride that we recognize our responsibility to the underprivileged here."

"Pride in helping the young people in this area with fine programs. Pride in the wonderful things this community has. And pride in our future," Karandjeff commented.

"The thing we have to be concerned about is that every one is contacted and given an opportunity to give."

"We all know that the joy of the giver is far greater than that of the receiver," he concluded.

Paul H. Kelly, U.F. drive chairman and plant manager of A. O. Smith, praised the increased pledges and contributions from the industrial employees.

"It is most gratifying to me to find we have this kind of response from the people of these plants," Kelly told the volunteers.

Industrial employees as of yesterday had pledged or given $134,373 to the campaign or 72.6% of their division goal of $185,000.

Other groups reporting high percentages were residential and clubs with $4,798, or 79.5% of the $6,000 goal, and industrial firms with $84,105 contributed or pledged, 67.2% of the $125,000 goal in that division.

Others reporting included the YMCA.

commercial division with $10,762 to date, 21.5% of the $50,000 goal; the professional division with $2,030, or 12.7% of the $16,000 goal; and public service with $1,075 given or pledged, 6.4% of that division's goal of $23,000.

Reports were unavailable from Madison and Venice, which are seeking to meet goals of $5,000 and $3,000 respectively.

The Granite City Steel Co. employees' contributions and pledges marked about 22% of the total United Fund goal. A company spokesman said that the company's

South, North Names of 2 High Schools in GC

By MARION BARTOSIAK Press-Record Staff Writer

The Granite City Board of Education designated names of two senior high schools which will be in operation in the district in the next school year during a meeting Monday night. They are Granite City High School North for the school now under construction, and Granite City High School South for the current school. The new names will be in effect on July 1, 1973.

The board, after considering names for the schools since February, decided to maintain the identity of Granite City and community with the names of the schools.

The new high school is expected to be completed by the opening of the 1973-74 school year.

It was reported that work on the fire-damaged GCHS auditorium may be completed in March rather than next summer as originally expected.

"Closing House"
The board heard a report by Gerald Brown, principal of Central Junior High School, recommending that "closing house" activities with community participation be held before the school is phased out at the end of this school year.

Brown was authorized to plan a program which will point out the services of the school building to the community throughout the year.

In other business the board: Approved repairs to the cooling system at Grispy Junior High School made during August at a cost of $707.

Authorized application for reimbursement of occupational education claims for the last summer session and the current first semester. The estimated reimbursement is $60,000.

Mail Progress

An ordinance officially creating the downtown Granite City mail project was approved unanimously by City Council members in regular meeting Monday night.

The ordinance, which provides for the sale of special assessment bonds as means of financing the $250,000 mail project in Granite City's downtown "wedge" area, first was presented to the council last month by the Board of Local Improvements.

The bill was not passed at that time because legal publication of the measure was required before the council could act upon it. The mail ordinance was published three weeks ago.

Mayor Donald Parney said adoption of the ordinance by the council clears the way for the appointment of an appraiser to estimate the value of property that will be located within the mail area which extends along both sides of Niedringhaus Avenue from Edison Avenue to Cleveland Boulevard, and along 19th Street from State Street to Cleveland.

Once the appraisal is complete, the appraisal is complete.

Liquor License Fees in County Raised to $400

Liquor license fees for establishments in unincorporated areas were increased from $300 to $400 Wednesday morning by the Madison County Board.

Adoption of the liquor ordinance came on a 24-3 vote after several members called for revisions. One noted that an Illinois county of similar size collected an annual fee of $800.

Robert Ford of Wood River, who said the county had been negligent in adjusting the fee for a number of years, called for graduated fees of $300 to $500 with classifications for restaurants serving beer, taverns and liquor stores.

Edward Voumard of Alton, chairman of the license committee, said the committee "did not want a fee which would be repressive for a legitimate business."

Following a remark that taverns cause trouble to the county, it was noted that other types of business also encounter difficulties, and Voumard said the fee issue could be considered again next year if deemed advisable.

Schedule Venice City Hall Work

By WALTER STRANGE Press-Record Staff Writer

Final plans for remodeling the Venice City Hall are nearly complete and bids for the work are scheduled tentatively to be called during the City Council's next meeting Oct. 31, Mayor John E. Lee told the Venice aldermen in a meeting Tuesday night.

The City Hall remodeling will cost approximately $170,000 and will be the first major improvement of the building since it was constructed in 1927.

Tentative plans call for a new jail addition with both men's and women's cells; expansion of the police department to provide an interrogation room, radio room and locker room. The council meeting room and other city offices would be moved to the second floor.

The tentative time table calls for opening of bids at 10 a.m. on Nov. 20, with the council to take official action on a contract on Nov. 25.

Permit Issued
In other council business a building permit was approved for George Smith, 623 Meridiana Ave., to add a carport to his home at an approximate cost of $110.

The arrest report for September showed 14 juvenile arrests which included four runaways from Kansas with a stolen auto, four arrested and sent to the detention home for violations of the juvenile code; four arrested and released after investigation; one station adjustment; and one arrest on violation of city ordinance.

The report showed 25 adult arrests including 10 traffic violations; six city ordinance violations; four released to other departments; two released to Army on AWOL charges; three state felony charges; two state ordinance violations; and one held overnight.

The treasurer's report for September was read and approved. Disbursements for the month were $98,075.19 and total receipts were $26,675.01.

Following the meeting the aldermen inspected the tentative blueprints for the remodeling of the building.

GCHS Girl Semi-Finalist In Scholarship Program

Joan U. Evangelou, daughter of Mrs. Mary Evangelou, 1244 Madison Ave., and a student at Granite City High School, has been named a semi-finalist in the 1973 National Merit Scholarship Program, according to James Dumont, principal.

The approximately 5,000 semi-finalists appointed are among the nation's most academically talented high school seniors. They will compete for some 3,000 merit scholarships to be awarded in 1973.

The semi-finalists received the highest qualifying scores in their states on the Preliminary Scholastic Aptitude Test/National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test (PSAT/NMSQT), which was given last October to over one million students in about 16,000 schools nationwide. They constitute less than 1% of the graduating senior class.

The semi-finalists show high promise for leadership in their adult careers, according to Edward Scott, president of the National Merit Scholarship Corporation (NMSC). "They have already demonstrated both high intellectual capacity and a readiness to develop their abilities," he said.

Semi-finalists must advance to finalist standing to be considered for the merit scholarship to be awarded next spring. Semi-finalists become finalists by receiving the endorsement of their schools, confirming their high PSAT/NMSQT performance on a second examination, and providing information about their accomplishments and interests.

About 96% of the semi-finalists are expected to become finalists, and each will be considered for one of the 1,000 National Merit $1,000 Scholarships which are allocated on a state basis.

SIUE to Call Bids on Two Buildings

Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville will begin advertising this week for bids to construct two classroom-office buildings.

Gov. Richard Ogilvie released $14,286,300 on Aug. 31 for buildings to be used by the Education and Business divisions and other units at SIUE.

Funds for the buildings were appropriated several years ago but were held up pending a review of building priorities by the Illinois Board of Higher Education and the governor's task force on construction, headed by Erle Jones of the Illinois Bureau of the Budget.

B. D. Huggins, SIUE vice-president for business affairs, said today the University has received final approval of plans for the two buildings from the Board of Trustees for approval Dec. 15.

Huggins said construction is expected to begin around Jan. 2, 1973.

The buildings will be erected north of the existing Peck School Building in the academic core area. Each will be three stories with a full basement.

The building will be linked underground by a service tunnel and at the third floor level by a walkway. Brick work will match that of existing buildings.

The two buildings will provide 160 new laboratories, 38 classrooms, 29 seminar rooms, 38 tutorial spaces, 10 observation rooms, six studios, 237 offices for faculty and staff and 29 general offices.

Salaries of Four Elective Officers Hiked by County

By MARION BARTOSIAK
Press-Record Staff Writer

Salaries of four county officials to be elected on Nov. 7 were increased by the Madison County Board at its meeting Wednesday morning.

Three of the four will receive raises of $4,000 to $19,000 a year. They are clerk of the circuit court, recorder of deeds and auditors. The salary set for the coroner was $17,000, up $2,000.

The finance committee headed by J. J. Gramlich of Highland recommended $19,000 salaries for each of the four officials, $500 less than the maximum permitted by state law for counties of the size of Madison County.

But the recommendation was followed by three amendments, two of which involved the coroner.

The first was to set the salary at $17,000 but another amendment amending the amendment would have reduced it to the current level of $15,000.

That failed on a roll call vote, and the original amendment was approved.

Third Amendment Fails

The third amendment offered by Mrs. Sibyl H. Bellis of East Alton would have set the salaries of the other three officials at $18,000, but it failed on a roll call vote.

During the discussions, it was suggested that the office of coroner be abolished or combined with other counties as most of the work of the office is conducted by pathologists.

It also was noted that the office of coroner has been filled by a funeral director in this county, and that the office in itself increases the funeral business of the official.

Auditor John Kraynak reiterated that many deputy coroners have not been collecting fees, believing it to be unnecessary under the law, though they have been instructed by the current coroner, Robert Thomas (of Granite City), to do so.

Kraynak said that back fees due range from $30,000 to $40,000 over a number of years. He said he had requested the office of the state's attorney six months ago to take legal action to collect the fees, but there has been no response.

Fees collected by the office in past years have been sufficient to pay the salary of the coroner, Kraynak pointed out, while the other three offices were self-sustaining and turned excess funds into the county treasury.

Daylight Saving Time Comes to End Oct. 29

Quad-Cityans who lost an hour of sleep last April when Daylight Saving Time became effective for the 1972 spring and summer season will get it back Oct. 29 when the "fast time" is due to end.

Officially, daylight time ends at 2 a.m. Oct. 29 under statutes ending the period at that hour on the last Sunday of October, although setting back the clock any time Saturday night or early Sunday morning will have the same effect.

Setting the clock back one hour from the fast time schedule will give Quad-City area residents an earlier dawn, but they will find that darkness also rolls around earlier in the evening.

City Approves Zoning for K-Mart Store, Laundry

The Granite City Council resolved two major rezoning issues Monday night, clearing the way for construction of a $1.5 million K-Mart Store at 3701 Namecki Road and a $250,000 commercial laundry on the west side of Rock Road at Federal Aid Route 151.

In separate actions that were approved unanimously by 13 aldermen attending the regular council session, the council approved an ordinance rezoning 6.5 acres of a 13-acre tract at the rear of 3701 Namecki Road to permit construction of the K-Mart Store, and approved a report of the City Plan Commission recommending rezoning of a three-acre tract at Rock Road and FA Route 151 for the laundry project.

An ordinance confirming the rezoning of the tract for the laundry from M-1 (light industrial) to a B (business) classification is to be presented to the council for adoption in its meeting Monday night.

Madison Officer Hurt In Traffic Accident

Madison Police Officer Donald Bridick, 32, was treated and released from St. Elizabeth Hospital at 12:20 a.m. Wednesday following a traffic accident at 11:20 p.m. Tuesday at 12th Street and Madison Avenue.

The Madison patrol car, northbound on Madison avenue and stopped for a red traffic signal, was struck from the rear by a car driven by Robert Earl Woods, 29, of 1136 Logan St., Venice. Woods' car also knocked over a traffic signal.

Woods appeared in court Wednesday and pleaded guilty to charges of driving without a driver's license, failure to reduce speed to avoid an accident and destruction of city property. He was fined $165. Woods pleaded innocent to a charge of driving while intoxicated.

Salma Mosley, 1136 Logan St., Venice, owner of the car Woods was driving, was ticketed on a charge of permitting an unauthorized person to drive. She is to appear for a hearing Nov. 1 at 10 a.m.

Former Pastor Here, Wife Die in Crash

The Rev. James Kofahl, 54, pastor of the Edwards Street Assembly of God Church in Alton and former pastor of the First Assembly of God Church, 24th Street and Grand Ave., Granite City, and his wife Bess LaDon Kofahl, 52, were killed in a two-car head-on collision on Route 61 about five miles south of Hayti, Mo., at 9:15 a.m. Monday.

The Missouri Highway patrol said the Kofahls were fatally injured when a northbound car driven by Gustave Risse, 63, of White Haven, Tenn., crossed the center median and collided with the Kofahl's southbound auto.

The Rev. Kofahl pastored at the Granite City church from 1955 to 1958. He served at the Alton church between 1947 and 1955 returning to the pastorate there in 1958.

The Rev. Kofahl was killed instantly and Mrs. Kofahl died enroute to the Memphis hospital.

Also killed in the crash were Leonard Warner, 56, of Richland, Mo., Mrs. Kofahl's brother-in-law, and Mr. Risse. Mrs. Lucille Warner, 55, a sister of Mrs. Kofahl, is reported in critical condition in a Memphis hospital.

An activist in the war on drugs, the Rev. Kofahl, worked through the church's youth center in an effort to rehabilitate young teenage addicts in Alton. Mr. and Mrs. Kofahl resided at 2422 Gayle Ave., Alton. They are survived by one daughter, Mrs. Ross (Janet) Mothershead of Prichard, Ala., and a son, James Michael Kofahl, at home, a student at SIUE and one grandchild.

MORE ABOUT Fund Pledges

First pledge 20 years ago was $10,200, or about 11% of the overall UP goal, which then was $90,000.

An A. O. Smith spokesman said that 544 employees now are enrolled in the 30-minute or more of their pay per month continuous giving program, and 150 employees are giving 60 minutes or more per month.

The fair share giving per employee has increased from $11.27 last year to $17.35 this year, he disclosed.

"The enthusiasm of more than 20 employees who volunteered to solicit their fellow workers was a tribute to their personal dedication toward the United Fund.

"This enthusiasm and effort—coupled with the support of the officers of the United Auto Workers Union, International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers and the International Association of Machinists—were the prime reasons in realizing a most successful in-plant continuous giving drive," he said.

Trojan Gridders Key Up For Saturday Visit by Mater Dei

The Mater Dei Knights will clash with the Madison High School Trojans at 2 p.m. Saturday on the Madison field.

Mater Dei of Breeze, with an enrollment of 800, posted 72 records the past two seasons and blanked the Trojans last year 20-0.

Howard Slater, new coach at Mater Dei, is a graduate of Austin Peay University at Clarksville, Tenn., where he was an all-conference tackle his senior year.

"My philosophy is to play a quick and aggressive style of football," Slater remarked. "I've had a great deal of success with the wishbone. If you are capable of executing it properly, it is as high-powered as you can run, and the Mater Dei team seems to fit it."

The Knights ran the wishbone last year effectively.

Mater Dei's overall record this season is 2-3. The Knights lost to Mt. Vernon 12-7, Greenville 19-0 and Marquette of Alton 15-7. They have beaten Mascoutah 14-13 and Triad 27-4. The Knights have scored 55 points and their opponents 61.

Of the 15 returning lettermen, Slater starts five, giving the team much depth.

Brad Heman, 6-2, 180 senior quarterback, is fast. He runs the 100 in about 10.2 seconds.

The leading ground gainer and leading scorer last season and so far this year is Rob Stanfa, 180, 5-7 senior running back.

Top receiver for the Knights is Kurt Stricker, 5-10, 150 senior end. He caught two touchdowns and the winning pass against Mascoutah.

Averaging nine tackles a game for Mater Dei is Ron Markus, 6-0, 190, and Joe Todoroff, 5-10, 180, both senior linebackers.

Fans will see a five-man front odd set aggressive defense used against the Trojans.

Plagued with injuries the Trojan lineup is uncertain. Eight starting Trojans are out of the lineup.

Chris Ragsdale and Orlando Adams have broken arms; Ivan Simms, a varsity tackle, has been out of action due to an operation; Kevin Ditch has a foot problem; Paul Thompson, center, injured his shoulder; Ken Bradley, defensive end, has a bruised hip; Carl Fomville and Randy Graville have been ill.

Coach Al Vonder Harr commented, "We are going to be forced to play a lot younger players than we have been and this is no good from a variety of reasons. First, when you have little experience, in fact no experience, you make a lot of mistakes and they cost you the ball game."

"Second, it forces a boy to mature too early, he gets the wrong ideas in his head, by that I mean he begins to think he is a lot better than he really is."

"We will hold a team about three quarters and then they clobber us. When Assumption ran over us, we held them scoreless for three-fourths the game."

"Our team really needs a leader. We haven't had a good player since John Ervin. Our boys have talent but unfortunately they are not too sure of what hard work is and it takes hard work and dedication to sport to win ball games."

Madison is 1-3. The Trojans won their opener 14-12 against St. Louis Central, but lost to Eureka 15-12, Assumption 45-0 and Sparta 20-0.

Kahoks Forfeit Althoff Game

Collinsville's prep football team forfeited a 20-8 victory over Belleville Althoff as an ineligible player was used in a game played Sept. 15, it was ruled this week.

Safety Richard Mark had not attended 14 days of pre-season practice as specified by state rules: He was at 14 practice sessions in 12 days. Collinsville Coach Lloyd Dunning said it was an oversight on his part and called the mistake to the attention of the Illinois High School Association. Collinsville now has a 3-2 record while Althoff is 3-3.

GC Steel Kegler Hits 300 Game

Earl A. Gibbs, a member of the Granite City Steel Salaried League bowling team, rolled a 300 game in league action Monday night at Bowland Lanes.

It was the first perfect game for the young kegler, 25, who nervously remarked that "I've always wanted to see a 300. I've never expected to bowl one."

The feat came in the first game of his series on alleys 11 and 12, leading to a bevy of congratulations and a sleepless night. Reacting in the initial success, he followed with a 148 game and then recovered for a 200 and a 648 series. His average now is 188.

Gibbs started bowling at 15, quit at 20 and resumed last year. A graduate of the University of Arkansas, he is employed by the Granco Division in St. Louis. He lives in Spanish Lake, Mo.

"HEADING" BALL OUT OF DANGER is Kevin Howe (18) of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville as the SIUE Cougars defeated the University of Missouri, St. Louis, Tuesday at Cougar Field. No. 10 is SIUE's Bill Renaud, and to Howe's left is Cougar Tom Galati. Steve Stockman (15) is the Rivermen's fullback.

Cougars Hand Rivermen First Loss 2-0 Here

The Cougar soccer team of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville handed the University of Missouri, St. Louis, its first defeat of the season with a 2-0 victory before 3,500 fans Tuesday at Cougar Field.

Coach Bob Guelker's squad dominated the game as the Cougars took 37 shots on goal to 13 for the UMSL Rivermen.

Chris Carensa attained the initial goal in 32 minutes of the first half, and Tom Twellman led in the second half, with a left-footed angle shot. Twellman also added Carensa's successful effort as a shot hit the upright and bounced back, enabling Carensa to "chase" it in.

Rick Benben and Chester Kowalewski divided goal-tending duties for the Cougars. Benben made three saves in the first half and Kowalewski had two in the second. The Cougars had 10 corner kicks to four for UMSL.

The Cougars, now 5-0-1, will host Michigan State at 1:30 p.m. Saturday. The Rivermen, with a 3-1-0 mark, had upset St. Louis U., a top team on the SIUE schedule for next week at Busch Stadium.

A defeat for either team will virtually eliminate it from a chance at the Southwestern conference title as both teams already have suffered one conference loss.

The traveling Warriors hope to find the host field a much friendlier place than home has been since Wayne Williams has been at the reins of the Warriors on the road have won 12, lost two and tied one. While at home their record has been 4-8. Since 1969 the Warriors have 11 straight road victories.

"We probably reached our lowest point Friday night against Collinsville," said Williams who describes the loss as the hardest defeat he has had to take since becoming a head coach 12 years ago.

"It's a helpless feeling standing there on the sidelines and watching a defense completely collapse when we have always been so proud of this part of our game," Williams lamented.

His 1971 ball club did not allow as many points or as much yardage in the entire season as this year's club has in half of a season.

"Maybe you have to reach the bottom before you can see how much better the top is," Williams continued. "I do know we still have some proud young men on our ball club and we have no intention of rolling over and playing dead now!"

Williams plans some definite changes on defense but did not disclose them.

Offensively quarterback Dave Dombek will still be missing because of a leg injury and Clay Winfield will again get the nod along with fullback Gary Lively and halfbacks Jon Stagner and Dave Williams.

The defensive line will remain the same with center Russ Miller, guards Barry Loman and Jack Schooley; tackles Brad Hiles and Jon McMillon; tight end and Brad Weiss and alternating split ends Mike Martinez and Tom Schooley.

It will be the first meeting of the two teams as opponents in the Southwestern Conference. Last season, when East played non-conference ball, the Warriors sneaked by 12-12. The Lancers had an 8-2 record for that season.

East is 3-2 overall and 1-1 in conference play this year. Lancers lost their opener against Hazelwood 22-21 in the last 17 seconds of play and Belleville West edged them 6-0. The Lancers have defeated DeSmet 35-7, Althoff 6-0 and Cahokia 7-0.

Dean Ren, head grid mentor since the school opened seven years ago, has 47-8-0 record.

Injuries have taken out of action three starters for East: Rick Dulan, center, was hurt in the DeSmet game; Billy Bauer, fullback, bit the dust in the opener against Hazelwood; and Don Kaseburg, defensive

Warriors in Do or Die Battle Friday At Belleville East

The Granite City High School Warriors, still smarting from their stunning last-second homecoming defeat by Collinsville, will travel to Belleville East at 8 p.m. Friday for what boils down to a "must" game for both clubs.

A defeat for either team will virtually eliminate it from a chance at the Southwestern conference title as both teams already have suffered one conference loss.

Injuries have taken out of action three starters for East: Rick Dulan, center, was hurt in the DeSmet game; Billy Bauer, fullback, bit the dust in the opener against Hazelwood; and Don Kaseburg, defensive cornerback, was hurt in practice.

Warrior runners will need to give Gary Cox, 6-2, 220 middle linebacker, a wide berth as he made 20 tackles against Cahokia. Kenny Vaughn, 6-2, 190 senior quarterback, in addition to having a keen eye and strong arm, runs extremely well, according to Renn.

The top Belleville East receiver is Jerry Ratay 5-10, 140 senior halfback.

The Lancers use a 4-3 defense, with four men on the line and three linebackers. Fans will see them using a double wing offense as they are basically a running club.

This season East has racked up 69 points compared to 41 for the opponents.

Stop Gibault 6-0

The Granite City High School Warrior soccer team extended its record this season to 12 wins with a 6-0 victory yesterday over Waterloo Gibault at Wilson Park.

It was the third consecutive game in which the Warriors attained six goals. In the Jacksonville Tournament Saturday, the team defeated Assumption 6-1 and won the championship with a 6-0 victory over the host team.

Yesterday also marked the second time this season the Warriors have blanked Gibault, having won 4-0 Sept. 14.

Randy Worthen again led Granite City with three goals and an assist. Wayne Canada had two points and one assist to his credit.

Goals in the first half were by Canada, assisted by Worthen, and then by Worthen, assisted by Harvey Brecken.

Spalding OK After Race

Wib Spalding of Pontoon Beach was treated and released from a Champaign hospital Sunday after having suffered carbon monoxide poisoning during the 100-mile Illinois State championship race for late model stock cars at Champaign.

Spalding finished fifth in the event and collapsed as he left his car at the finish line. The local driver, who was a dual champion at the Tri-City Speedway here, led the first 53 laps of the 200-lap feature event before he was involved in an accident and had to pull to the side to change a flat tire. The time he lost cost him one lap and a possible championship.

Spalding was the fastest qualifier in time trials of the 117 cars in the event.

The Physicists' to Be Performed at SIUE

The University Theater at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville will present "The Physicists" at 8:15 p.m. Oct. 24-26 in the Communications Building theater. Admission is free. Reservations should be made by calling 692-2775.

Ed Kovach of Granite City is cast as Gohl. Will Shaw of Belleville plays the leading physicist, Johann Wilhelm von Zehn. The second lead in the Friedrich Durrenmatt play is the role of Fraulein Doktor Mathilde von Zahnd, portrayed by Anna Thompson of Wood River.

The other two physicists are Herbert Georg Beutler (Neuer) played by Steven M. Snyder of Western Springs, and Ernst Heinrich Ernst (Einstein), played by Whit Reich of Belleville. Craven Mackie of the speech and theater faculty is directing the play.

When the play opens the corpse of a nurse is lying on stage. Soon there is another corpse to explain and by the end of the play, according to one critic, "there is revealed madness such as I had never dreamed of before and have not ceased to dream of since. After the visit and the deadly game, no one will be surprised to be told that Durrenmatt is a master of the macabre."

Growth of Granite City Steel Facilities, Jobs Viewed as Certain if it Outperforms Other Plants

Text of remarks to the Granite City Optimist Club this afternoon by H. M. "Pete" Love, president of Granite City Steel Co.

After accepting your invitation, it occurred to me that this might be a good occasion to discuss how the merger of Granite City Steel into National Steel last year has worked out for Granite City Steel and the area around our plant.

Has it been good for us as a business? And good for you as a community?

The best way I can answer those questions is to summarize developments since August, 1971 when Granite City Steel became a part of the National Steel Corporation.

In making this report, I am going to place particular emphasis on capital improvements, employment and other matters which have a direct impact on the local community, as well as our plant.

To begin with, I did not know until I came here how much the local economy... and local governments... depend on the continued prosperous operation of this steel mill.

Everyone knows we are the largest employer but it takes a few statistics to define what "largest" really means in this case.

For example, Granite City Steel pays about one third of the total property taxes collected in Granite City Township and the City of Granite City. We are also the largest taxpayer in Madison County, ranking ahead of Shell Oil, Illinois Power and others.

Granite City PRESS-RECORD
Page 8 Thursday, Oct. 19, 1972

I mention taxes simply because so often people take their schools and other public services for granted.

However, the quality of those facilities is determined to a large extent by the tax base to which they can turn for revenue. Granite City Steel constitutes a major part of the tax base in this area and fortunately for all of us, a healthy part as well.

Now let's review another aspect of interest both to our company and the community... jobs. As a preliminary, let me repeat some statistics that may be familiar but will help put subsequent comments in a frame of reference.

It has been estimated that 100 new factory jobs means a community will have 296 more people, 112 more households, 51 more school children, $590,000 more personal income per year, $270,000 more in bank deposits, 107 more passenger cars, 174 more employees in service related industries, 4 more retail establishments and $380,000 more retail sales per year.

As has been the case for many years, Granite City Steel is easily the largest employer in the Tri-Cities, and this is an area that needs industrial jobs. The Granite City Army Depot and Miles Laboratories are no longer with us, and employment at some other key plants is lower than it was during peak years in the 1960's.

Granite City Steel has been able to avoid the Downward trend and maintain employment at a high level. We have about 4,500 employees, or approximately four times as many as the next largest plant in the Tri-Cities.

Our payroll for the year 1972 will amount to approximately $60,000,000, a new record for Granite City Steel. As you know, much of that payroll is spent right here in the Tri-Cities.

At the same time, Granite City Steel has created jobs for others in the Tri-Cities through continued improvement of plant and facilities.

As an example, our relining of "B" blast furnace last winter was accomplished at the peak of the employment of about 650 building tradesmen... more than were employed on any other construction job in Madison County in the last year or two.

We have other improvements under way or planned for 1973. We are establishing a consolidated data processing center to handle the data processing and system functions of this plant and of National's Midwest Steel Division in Portage, Indiana.

The systems organizations of both plants will be in Granite City. We will soon begin construction of a new maintenance shop for our 80-inch hot strip mill.

Two of our three coke oven batteries are to be completely rebuilt.

There will be a number of important changes and improvements in the area where we handle bulk raw materials.

Last, but by no means least, we are well into a $4,000,000 air pollution control program under an agreement with the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency.

I have reviewed these developments at our plant because they provide the best evidence I can show anyone as to the benefits of the 1971 merger to our plant and to the community around us as well.

Let me be specific. Those of you who follow our industry know that 1972 has not been exactly a great year for steel. While we are now seeing some pickup, the demand for steel all through the first half was well below 1971 levels.

Most steel plants have not been operating nearly as full this year as 1971 and their employment and payrolls show it. Granite City Steel is an exception and you do not have to go beyond the merger to find the reason.

As we said at the time, the merger was so logical because it combined a producer of hot rolled coils which had excess capacity and needed volume—Granite City Steel—and a producer of cold rolled, galvanized steel and tin plate which needed hot rolled coils, National's Midwest Steel Division.

With the merger, Midwest quickly became the largest single user of Granite City Steel's hot rolled.

Shipments to Midwest have made the difference between our level of operations in 1972 and that of the average steel plant.

The merger has also allowed us to take advantage of recent improvements in the blast furnace area and increase pig iron production more than 20% this year over last.

Our steel production is ahead of 1971 by almost as much.

In fact, 1972 will be a record year for this plant. Granite City Steel will produce more steel and ship substantially more flat rolled steel products than in any past year in history.

While it is gratifying to look at the immediate benefits of the National Steel—Granite City Steel merger, we should also remember that there is potentially more to be gained in years ahead.

Granite City Steel was once able to concentrate on supplying a close-at-hand local market, but we can no longer survive on that basis.

The steel market has become international. Our plant in Granite City, faces competition in the market place from steel mills all over the world.

This is not an easy situation for an American steel mill in der the best of circumstances. However, Granite City Steel is clearly better equipped to survive and prosper by the fact that we are now a part of a major American industrial corporation.

There are some obvious advantages as compared with the past.

Granite City Steel has access to the capital resources needed to take advantage of our opportunities.

We also have gained strength from our increasingly close relationship not only with Midwest but also with National's Great Lakes Steel Division and Weirton Steel Division.

Just as an example, our blast furnaces will be operating next year on coke from Weirton Steel's two of our direct coke oven batteries are down for rebuilding.

We can also turn production and product developments to the scientists at the National Steel Research Center. There are other units, including National Steel Service Center, Inc., whose operations complement those of National's four steel mills.

Let me sound a note of caution here.

Although we have clearly gained from being a part of National Steel, the continued success of this particular plant... or of any other National plant, for that matter... lies right here at home.

We fully intend to keep Granite City Steel growing and building. However, we can't do it unless we operate competitively.

Based on the latest available data, the American steel industry requires fewer man-hours per ton to turn out finished steel products than its foreign competitors.

But our edge is small. It is not enough to offset cost and other advantages enjoyed by the steel industries of Japan, Western Europe, etc.

No American steel mill can rest on past accomplishments. We must achieve more productivity... make further advances in eliminating waste and using our equipment and materials more efficiently.

National's four steel mills work together but they also compete... for National's capital dollars.

The other day I was talking to our chairman and president, George Stinson, about the money Granite City Steel may well be prepared to ask for in a year or two for additional new facilities.

This is what the steel business is all about... growth and building.

Mr. Stinson listened but he knew... and I knew... that the actual "go" or "no-go" decision on those expenditures will be made when the time comes on the basis of the performance of this plant versus other National Steel plants.

Productivity is made up of many things and there is a role for everybody in our plant in improving productivity.

The opportunities for advancement and job security at Granite City Steel are great as long as we can operate a fully competitive steel mill... and no longer.

In conclusion, let me say that I am confident our neighbors will find the men and women of Granite City Steel just as concerned with the welfare of the community in future years as in the past.

We will continue to do our best to be good neighbors... to carry our share of the load in activities like the United Fund and organizations like the Chamber of Commerce.

GC Girl, 2½, Chosen 1973 Poster Child

Vicki Lynn Tanksley of Granite City, a tiny blonde imp with a mischievous smile, has been named the 1973 Poster Child for the Madison County March of Dimes campaign. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold E. Tanksley, 2529 Westmoreland Drive.

Vicki's selection as the birth defects poster child to headline the annual drive for funds in Madison County was announced this week by Mrs. Glen Chaboude, chairman of the Granite City March of Dimes Committee.

The 2½-year-old girl will be formally introduced and honored at the county organization's kickoff and orientation meeting Tuesday evening at the Stratford Hotel in Alton. General purpose of the county-wide gathering of volunteers, local chairmen and staff members will be to outline procedures, display materials and provide information of the general patterns of the National March of Dimes Foundation, Mrs. Chaboude said.

Questions concerning the March of Dimes campaign, traditionally to be conducted during January, will be answered, previous drive projects will be reviewed and a proposed county-wide "bread sale," scheduled to take place in November will be discussed at the kickoff session, county organizers report.

The 1973 Poster Child was born on March 2, 1970 with an open spine birth defect. Since the age of six weeks, Vicki has undergone five operations and numerous orthopedic procedures such as tractions and body casts.

A friendly and happy little girl known to her family as "Cissy," the youngster now wears small foot braces and, in the near future, is to be fitted for full braces which will enable her to use crutches and gain better mobility.

The Tanksleys have a younger child, Steven Eugene, 15 months.

Also to be honored at the kickoff dinner Tuesday in Alton are other children who have served as a Poster Child in previous years. They include Tammy Ruff of Granite City, Jody McLaughlin of Edwardsville, Jason Cook of Woodson, Stephanie Szczepanik of East Alton and Deborah Warden of Alton.

County Delays Action on Revenue Funds, Permits

Use of federal revenue sharing funds joined revision of building permit fees as major controversies under consideration by the Madison County Board at its meeting Wednesday morning at the county courthouse in Edwardsville.

Resolutions submitted for adoption on both issues were deferred until the Nov. 22 meeting of the board.

John Kraynak, county auditor, recommended that federal sharing funds of $83,844 expected to be received be applied for reduction of the county tax rate by eight or nine cents per $100 assessed valuation.

Mrs. Sibyl H. Belliss of East

Alton objected, proposing that the board action until all the revenue funds money could be considered.

Her motion to table the resolutions, but after it was reported that a seminar on the federal program will be held Nov. 2 in Springfield, where the explanation of the plan will be explained, the issue was placed on first reading.

Objections were made to building permit fee revisions proposed to place the county building and zoning departments on a self-sustaining basis, with some board members and contractors claiming the income would be 400% more than now received.

News Notes Methods of Instilling Confidence in Children

The Illinois gross state product for the second quarter of 1972 was estimated yesterday as a seasonally adjusted annual rate of $68.4 billion, up $1.8 billion from the comparable rate in the first quarter.

Ray C. Dickerson, state business and economic development director, said, "Manufacturing accounted for $28 million of the increase and contract construction added another $39 million. Other sectors of the economy except government and farming contributed at least moderate gains."

Parents are being invited to Blair, Dunbar, Harris, Louis Boy and Madison High School, Oct. 25 and 26 between 2 and 4 p.m. The Education Week observance at the Junior High School will be the same two days from 3:30 to 4:30 p.m.

A public hearing is set for 10 a.m. Wednesday, Oct. 25, in Room Nine of the City Hall of Granite City on proposed rules of the Illinois Pollution Control Board related to water quality standards.

Proposed water quality amendments, some substantial, but most technical, were announced in July.

An IPCC hearing at 10 a.m. Oct. 10 at the SUE Mississippi Room will deal with proposed revisions in noise regulations for stationary sources.

Under the Social Security-welfare bill sent to President Nixon by Congress Tuesday, persons who work beyond 65 would receive a 1% increase in benefits for each year between 65 and 72. A retired person could earn $2,100 a year instead of $1,880 without loss of benefits, and widows would receive 100% of what their husbands would have been entitled to, instead of 82½%.

Dan Walker, Democratic governor nominee, said Tuesday Governor Richard D. Ogilvie's property tax freeze plan is intended to deceive the public. The governor said Walker is distorting the proposal and is voicing false criticism. Walker in a later talk urged full party support of Senator McGovern for President as "a decent and courageous man."

Congress adjourned last night. Its failure to pass a 1972 highway bill will not immediately affect this state's bilateral road removal program, a state spokesman said.

Music will be provided by the Organized String Melodians and Slavic and other Balkan folk dances will be featured at 8 p.m. Saturday at the Trinity Hall, 13th Street and Madison Avenue, Madison.

Sponsor of the annual dance and festival is the Bulgarian Senior Citizens Social Club. Participating will be the International Folklore Federation headed by Steve Edison and the Croatian Junior-Tammies directed by Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Lucic. National peasant costumes will be displayed.

Dan Walker, Democratic nominee for governor, will speak to students at 1 p.m. tomorrow at the Goshen Room, SUE University Center.

Instilling a "can do" feeling in your child enables him to approach new experiences with confidence.

One way to build your child's confidence is to offer constructive criticism instead of cutting remarks.

Try these examples:

"When your child spills the garbage he is emptying, offer constructive criticism by saying, 'That's a hard job—next time carry it this way and then it won't spill,' rather than, 'Can't you ever do anything right?'

If your child is crying in frustration, offer the comforting words, 'You need to do this on your own, and then it will work.'

Too often, parents are inclined to say, 'If you had just listened to me, that wouldn't have happened.'

And remember when dealing with children especially, it's not only what you say but also how you say it that is important in developing self-confidence.

DEVELOPING YOUR CHILD'S INDEPENDENCE

By the age of three, your child will be ready to socialize—his first step toward independence.

It is important to give support when needed. This includes introducing a child to new things, new people and new situations when it makes him comfortable and seems natural. You can help by encouraging your child to play away from you—in another room or outside. This play need not always be with other children; he may enjoy playing with animals or toys.

Between the ages three and four, your child may want to visit family or friends away from the home. He should soon learn that he can have fun with other people while being away from you for several hours at a time.

If this stage of development is successful, your child will be able to adjust to nursery or preschool with few problems in socialization. When your child becomes independent, he can be separated from you without feeling insecure because he knows your love exists—even when you are not physically present.

POSITIVE APPROACH
You can maintain discipline without ever using these words: "Don't do that; stop that; quit it." How?

Use the positive approach and transform all of those don'ts into "do's."

Here are some examples: "Roll the ball on the floor," rather than "Don't throw the ball."

"Hold the kitten gently," instead of, "Don't squeeze the kitten."

"Let's just walk," in place of, "Stop running in the state."

"Carry your sweater over your arm," instead of, "Quit dragging your sweater in the dirt."

By using a negative approach, you tell your child only that he has done something wrong. The positive approach, on the other hand, offers an accepted alternative that will be more pleasing for you, your child and your family.

TIPTOEING THROUGH THE HOUSE

A tomb-like atmosphere of silence is not necessary for your baby when napping. Once he is asleep, a baby is not disturbed by general noises, although loud shouts and sharp noises near his crib may awaken him.

The normal noise from activities of people in the home starts preparing your baby for life in the outside world.

Actress Applauded in Talk Assailing U. S. Role in War

Working to end the war in Indochina is not radical but is patriotic because an end to the war would be in the best interest of the American as well as the Vietnamese people, peace activist and movie actress Jane Fonda told several thousand persons Monday afternoon at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

Miss Fonda, traveling around the country as part of the Indochina Peace Campaign, spoke to the overflow audience in the Meridian Ballroom while showing slides she took while in North Vietnam in July.

She alleged that terror tactics are being used by the U.S. and the Thieu government in South Vietnam, a government which Miss Fonda contended has almost no support among Vietnamese people.

"Bombing of cities, hospitals and dikes — complete devastation of the entire countryside — is being done in your name and mine," she said.

"And all to support Thieu, a man who fought for the French against his own people in the 1950s. Having him as president of South Vietnam is comparable to having Benedict Arnold forced installed as president of the United States."

Miss Fonda spoke of a 55-minute conversation she had with seven American prisoners-of-war while in Hanoi. "They told me they're being treated well and asked me to tell their families that they're living spared but quietly."

"They believe they won't be coming home until the war is over. They said the logic of the Nixon administration, that more bombing will increase their chances of an early release, escapes them completely."

She showed slides of a 22-year-old peasant girl who she said had undergone prolonged tortures after being arrested by the Thieu government.

Red 'Self Determination'

"I found out later that this girl was illiterate; she wasn't the slave of some Marxist, socialist ideology. She stood up under all the torture because she believed in self-determination for herself and her countrymen," Miss Fonda said.

"In fact, many North Vietnamese aren't Communists; many own their own lands and their own shops and can vote in free elections by secret ballot."

She covered a range of subjects while showing her slides, talking about archeological discoveries indicating that the Vietnamese have a 4,000 year culture behind them despite repeated attempts by foreign powers to overrun their land.

American B-52 bombers which she said showed the entire country indicating that the United States is doing permanent damage to Vietnamese people not involved in the fighting.

The Indochina Peace Campaign, she said, is an educational effort that will go on beyond the Nov. 7 election "for as long as is necessary. We're trying to keep the war in the minds of the American people because the Nixon Vietnamization program is an attempt to remove the war from American minds while inflicting the war on Vietnamese bodies."

"No one should take my word for what is happening. Let this be a start for you to do your own study. Discover for yourselves how the American government is violating the very precept of national self-determination in Vietnam that our own country was founded upon."

While she received applause from the mostly student audience, Miss Fonda was challenged on a number of specific points she had made during a question-and-answer session following her talk. Some of the questioners said they had returned a short time ago from military service in Vietnam.

"Hard work pays off," Senior Girl Scouts of Troop 117 can testify. The scouts have been earning money for the past year — selling products, holding car washes and bake sales and sponsoring a "breakfast with Santa Claus" to finance a tour of the West. The girls have returned home from Denver, Colo., where they camped in the mountains as guests in the cabin of Dr. William Liggett of Littleton, Colo.

Phyllis Barnes, Renee Chenevert, Mary Beth Hillmer, Netta Norris and Deana and Juanita Oram were accompanied by their advisor, Mrs. Joan Oram, Miss Linda Oram, leader of Brownie Troop 138, and Miss Mary Volf, leader of Brownie Troop 899. The scouts were also guests in the home of Mrs. Oram's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Jean Holz of Denver, who served as hosts at a dinner and on guided tours.

The week was climaxed by sightseeing in Colorado Springs, the Garden of the Gods, Van Briggie pottery studio, Cave of the Winds and Seven Falls. A highlight was watching the cadets march in formation at the Air Force Academy.

Plans are being made to raise money for a trip to Mexico to visit the Cabana, a world scout association center at Morelos, Mexico.

Report Finances or Give Up Public Office, Scott Rules

Illinois Attorney General William J. Scott acted Tuesday to correct a defect in the Illinois Governmental Ethics Act by ruling that all state and local officials, elected or appointed, who fail to file the statement of economic interests required by the act can be removed from office under the new Illinois Constitution.

Candidates who fail to file the statement of economic interests will be ineligible to hold office, the Attorney General's ruling also held.

Scott's official opinion was sought by McDonough County State's Attorney Henry D. Sintzen because the Illinois Governmental Ethics Act contains no penalty for failure to file within the time prescribed by law.

Scott pointed out, however, that self-executing penalties are spelled out in Section 2 of Article XIII of the new 1970 Illinois Constitution.

It states: "Failure to file a statement within the time prescribed shall result in ineligibility for, or forfeiture of, office."

Scott said that because of confusion that has existed over who is required to file the statement — and because the Illinois Supreme Court has only recently issued its decision holding the Governmental Ethics Act constitutional and clarifying the issue — some officials may not yet have filed.

He advised them to do so immediately, as his office now will act within a reasonable time to strictly enforce the provisions of the act.

Scott noted that neither the Illinois Governmental Ethics Act nor the Constitution provide for penalty or forfeiture on the part of employees required to file — that is, those who earn $20,000 or more a year.

"Since the General Assembly was the last body to take action in regard to such statements, it is assumed that this oversight, if such it be, will be rectified by the 78th General Assembly," he said.

Enforcement of the Ethics Act lies with the Illinois attorney general and with the county state's attorneys.

Firemen's Benefit Agreement Vetoed

A city ordinance, providing additional benefits for Granite City firemen was vetoed Monday night by Mayor Donald Partney who said he was taking the action because there were no provisions in the city budget to meet the costs.

While the ordinance had been a highly controversial issue prior to its adoption by the City Council Oct. 2, the aldermen made no move to override the mayor's veto in Monday night's regular council session.

A motion by Alderman Roy Poulos to place the mayor's veto "on file" was approved by a 9 to 3 vote. Alderman, R. E. Robertson, abstaining.

In announcing his veto, Mayor Partney said he believed it necessary "because the money simply isn't there... there are no provisions in the budget for spending the money this ordinance would cost."

The ordinance met objections in previous council sessions primarily because of a section that provided for adding the amount of a fireman's hospitalization payments to his salary during the last two months of employment before retirement.

Some aldermen maintained this was a means of raising a fireman's pay just before retirement, giving him a higher salary and, consequently, qualify him for a higher pension.

Set Base Pay
The ordinance also included a formula for establishing a fireman's base pay per hour for overtime purposes, and provided that any member of the department required to work at an advanced rank would receive the salary of the higher rank.

A majority of council members refused to place on final passage an ordinance embodying terms of an agreement reached between the council's Negotiating Committee and employees of the street department.

A motion to suspend the rules and place the bill on final passage was made by Alderman Roy Poulos who said he believed the council owed the employees of the street department an answer on the proposal, "whether you vote it up or vote it down."

The agreement was rejected by the council three weeks ago when it was referred back to the negotiating committee for clarification of some of its terms.

Wages Scheduled
The ordinance provided that foremen of the street department shall be appointed by the business managers of Laborers Union Local 397 and Teamsters Union Local 525, subject to approval of the street superintendent, and set wages for employees of the department at $840 per month and for foremen at $907 per month.

It also provides a $125 per year clothing allowance and remodeling of street department facilities to include more showers, wash basins, toilets and locker space. In addition, the agreement would provide parking space at the street department yards for personal autos of employees.

Alderman Walter Nann, chairman of the Street and Alley Committee, protested that the city does not have provisions in the budget to remodel the street department facilities. He objected also to a cash clothing allowance, suggesting that work uniforms be rented instead.

Nann also criticized appointment of foremen by union business agents.

"No boss should have his foremen selected for him," Nann said. "The street superintendent knows best who his foremen should be."

Protests Clothing Fund
Alderman Roy Poulos said he felt clothing allowances should be eliminated not only in the street department, but in the police and fire departments as well.

"We'll go through, with the agreements this year, but next year it's going to be different," Poulos said.

Whitmer's motion to suspend the rules for final passage was defeated by a vote of 7 yes to 6 no, with a minimum of 10 favorable votes needed.

Whitmer then moved to place the bill on first reading. That motion passed 10 to 3.

Start Plant Cuttings Indoors Now For Colorful Gardens Next Summer

By WAYNE B. SIEPERT
Area Extension Adviser
Ornamental Horticulture

Garden beauties like coleus, dusty miller and geraniums can be saved for next year's garden by starting cuttings. In mid-October you can select next year's colors and grow cuttings of each as an indoor house plant. During the winter more cuttings are started as the first cuttings need pruning until you have a family of young plants ready for spring transplanting.

Fall cuttings should be directly rooted in soil. Plants rooted in water often do not root well and may rot off when finally planted in soil. Cuttings should be three or four inches long and have at least one mature leaf to promote rooting and continued growth.

Several cuttings can be started in each pot. As these cuttings grow the tops can be removed and rooted in the same fashion. When you remove the second cutting be certain two leaves are on each stump.

Use Plastic Bags
Sandwich bags often fit snugly over the pot to create an ideal tent. When new growth is evident you must immediately remove the plastic tent. Keep this garden project near a bright window but not in full sun.

Soil mixtures and soil sterilization are important. Garden soil should be mixed with compost or peat moss. One good mixture is a three parts mix with soil, peat and sand. This provides nearly instant drainage for rooting cuttings and growing house plants.

All the garden stores are well stocked with the newest varieties of tulips, daffodils and other spring flowering bulbs.

3-Year-Old Plantings
A new planting will always give you the high quality so famous for these plants. But old plantings can do it too.

The Illinois Hospital Association will observe its golden anniversary meeting Oct. 26-27 at the Arlington Park Towers Hotel in Arlington Heights, Ill. Representatives from St. Elizabeth Hospital will attend.

Roger O. Egeberg, MD, consultant on health affairs to President Nixon and special assistant on health policy to HEW Secretary Elliot Richardson, will be a keynote speaker at the 50th annual meeting.

The two-day conference will center on the overall theme, "An Assessment of the Future and a Reflection of the Past." Over 1,000 health field professionals from Illinois, including administrators, trustees, physicians, nurses and volunteers, are expected to attend.

Because of their interest in health legislation, two Illinois legislators will be made honorary IHA members at the meeting. They are Senator Daniel Dougherty (D-Chicago) and Representative Bernard S. Epton (R-Chicago).

The Illinois Hospital Association is a statewide, voluntary, nonprofit organization with over 300 member hospitals across Illinois. Headquartered in Chicago, IHA represents its member constituency in the Illinois legislature and, in coordination with the American Hospital Association, on issues before Congress.

The association acts as the spokesman for its members in their interactions with major purchasers of services, consumer health organization and voluntary and governmental health agencies.

Istanbul Topic Of Travel Club

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Lynn provided the program at the Travelers Abroad meeting Monday night, showing pictures of their recent trip to Istanbul and the Holy Land.

Their collection included photographs of Aya Sofia, once a Byzantine Church, and now a museum, which is considered by architects to be one of the seven architectural wonders of the world, and the fountain of Sultan Ahmet III. Also pictured were the Yerebatan Cisterns, built by Emperor Justinian, and the Karayi Mosque, which contains many famous mosaics and frescoes from the Byzantine period.

In Palestine, the Lynns traveled the entire country from the shores of the Dead Sea to snow-covered Mount Hermon, taking numerous photographs, from the stark desolation of the road to Jericho to the 20th century hustle and bustle of Tel Aviv.

A special guest at the meeting was State Representative Robert J. Walters of Alton.

Miss Kathleen Carmody, Daniel Williams Are Wed

Miss Kathleen Carmody, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Carmody, 1704 Garfield Ave., and Lance Corporal Daniel L. Williams Jr., U. S. Marines, son of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel L. Williams Sr. of Gladstone, Mo., exchanged wedding vows on Oct. 14, at St. Margaret Mary Catholic Church.

She carried a bouquet of white rose buds with baby breath.

The matron of honor, Mrs. Justine Thornton, was attired in a formal length train in a burgundy shade enhanced with a deep layer of ivory lace at the neckline and on the cuffs of the long sleeves.

Laura Wickman, a cousin of the bride, was junior bridesmaid. She wore a deep pink dress in satin made in similar style to the honor matron's frock. Both attendants held bouquets of white carnations, red roses and baby breath.

Lawrence Sieve of Kansas City, Mo., attended the groom as best man. Thomas and David Carmody, both brothers of the bride, served as ushers.

A reception was held in the 300 Room at Tri-Mor Bowl immediately following the ceremony. Miss Arts Boggs presented over the guest book and Miss Karen Grover and Mrs. Carla Lewis assisted at the buffet table.

Mrs. Carmody, mother of the bride, selected a navy knit suit with a long coat and white blouse, complemented with navy accessories.

State Officials Attend GC Air Board Meeting

Dr. John Roberts, manager of the Air Pollution Control Division of the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency, and Walter Franke, manager of the EPA Collinsville Surveillance Office, attended the regular meeting of the Granite City Air Pollution Control Board Monday night at the city office building, 2301 Adams St.

Members of the local board dispensed with the regular agenda and had an informal discussion session with the EPA officials as to how the Granite City office best can supplement the state program.

The local board members stressed that the department was created primarily to direct the local program of enforcement of local air pollution ordinances and to meet the needs of this area.

Using the office only as an other data collection agency for the state was to be discouraged, the officials said.

Roberts and Franke explained state programs in which the local office could help the overall state operation without over-lapping duties with other agencies.

ROUTE 203 IMPROVEMENT gets under way as bulldozers rip out trees along the right-of-way just north of the Granite City limits. The highway will be widened to a four-lane pavement with divided median from Granite City to Interstate 270 at Mitchell. The work will include reconstruction of the Maryville Road intersection.

Offices for 12 Departments In State's Regional Center

The new East St. Louis Regional Office Building announced by Gov. Richard B. Ogilvie is to be constructed in the heart of the city's downtown area.

Release of over $3 million was approved by the Capital Development Board and includes money for site acquisition and architectural design fees as well as construction costs.

Demolition contracts are being advertised to tear down buildings presently stand on the site, according to Frank Resnik, director of the Illinois Department of General Services.

Bids on the demolition work will be due Oct. 31, and work will begin shortly thereafter.

One additional piece of property which the state will buy is undergoing condemnation proceedings in the St. Clair County courts, Resnik said. A trial date has been tentatively set for Nov. 28. As soon as that property is acquired, the project will also be bid.

The new regional office building is part of Gov. Ogilvie's program to regenerate the economy of this region. Construction of the building will be the initial impetus for stimulating private investment and redevelopment of the central business district of East St. Louis.

The East St. Louis Regional Office Building will be the site of six major regional office buildings planned for or already in operation in the state, Resnik said.

The five already in operation are in Marion, Champaign, Springfield, Rockford and Peoria.

Site recommendations and cost estimates for the East St. Louis building were prepared in a report by Filippo & Kampwerth, Associate Architects, of Alton. The firm was later selected to design the building.

The 50,000-square-foot structure will provide a central location for regional administrative operations of the following departments and agencies: public aid, corrections, public health, children and family services, revenue, labor, mental health, veterans' commission, crippled children, environmental protection agency, agriculture and the regional airport authority.

The building will be part of a larger design treatment prepared by Filippo & Kampwerth which features an open space concept to attract pedestrian traffic through the business area.

Resnik said the city's economy will be enhanced by approximately 225 new employees in the downtown area and by an additional 275 new visitors every day.

He pointed out that more than 50% of the business buildings on the site acquired for the new building were vacant before the state purchased them.

North Carolina Statehood Medal Honors Daniels

By PAUL J. WEIS
Copley News Service

Joseph Daniels, U. S. secretary of the Navy and prominent North Carolina newspaper publisher and editor, is honored on the latest statehood medal which commemorates North Carolina.

The North Carolina Daniels medal is the 45th in a series of medals honoring the 50 states, which is being produced by Presidential Art Medals, Inc., of Vandalia, Ohio.

Daniels began his newspaper career at a very early age and by the time he attained the age of 22, was president of the North Carolina Press Association.

He then attended law school and was admitted to the state bar, though he never practiced law.

Daniels was active in politics and owned various newspapers, along with the Chronicle and Carolinian, and was both a journalist and financial success.

In 1913, Daniels was appointed by President Wilson as secretary of the Navy and served in that capacity until Wilson's second term in 1921. He then devoted his efforts to his position as editor and publisher of the News and Observer.

Joseph Daniels also was ambassador to Mexico. He wrote a five-volume autobiography and a book about Woodrow Wilson.

Ralph Menconi produced both the portrait on the face of the medal and the reverse which depicts the Great Seal of the state of North Carolina. Further information may be secured from Presidential Art Medals, Inc., Vandalia, Ohio 45377.

Big Schools in State to Meet; Stucke Officer

School board members representing 57 urban and suburban school systems will meet in Springfield Friday and Saturday to review a variety of problems of mutual concern.

The occasion is a bi-monthly meeting of the Council of Large District Boards, a section of the Boards (IASB).

The Council was created by IASB about six months ago to provide large school districts with a vehicle for attacking their unique problems. Donald Stucke of Granite City is vice-chairman of the Council.

Committee meeting are set for 8 p.m. tomorrow at Holiday Inn East, where delegates from all 57 districts will convene Saturday at 10 a.m.

Dr. Ronald Michaelson, assistant to Governor Richard B. Ogilvie, will address a noon luncheon.

Among topics slated for discussion during the meeting are: teacher tenure; creation of a state board of education; machinery for reviewing and responding to directives and guidelines issued by the Office of Public Instruction; and recent legislation affecting the operation of public school districts.

All Council officers and delegates are assigned to one of the following committees scheduled to meet Friday evening: planning and evaluation; legislation; constitution and bylaws; resolutions and policies; communications; finance and budget; convention program and evaluation; and an ad hoc committee on education.

Scott Band to Play For Venice Open House

The Scott Air Force Base Military Airlift Command Band will present a concert to students and parents of the Venice public schools at 10:15 a.m. Wednesday.

The assembly at which the band will play will begin an open house at the school, part of the observance of American Education Week here. Following the concert, parents are invited to attend classes with their children the remainder of the day.

A special display will be set up in the library showing parents the "Right to Read" media center which is being used to assist pre-school and primary school children in learning to read.

The media center was purchased with a $5,000 grant from the federal government and is used in an innovative program.

Pre-school children and their parents attend the center from 1 to 1:30 p.m. each Monday and Wednesday while the primary students have an hour of reading assistance from 1 to 2 p.m. each day, Monday through Thursday.

Park Flowers Given To Residents Friday

Flowers from the gardens at Wilson Park will be given to park district residents on a first-come, first-served basis tomorrow starting at 8:30 a.m. at the garden entrance along 27th Street.

Flowers available include Begonias, Dahlias, yellow and assorted Coleus, Spring of Rye, Cock Combs, Geraniums, Red Salvia, Periwinkle and lavender and white Lantanas.

Congressman Price Needed in Washington by Residents
Of His District and by People Throughout the Nation

Both national tickets have been saying that 1972 offers the clearest election choice in many years.

The question facing Illinois 23rd Congressional District voters this fall certainly is clear-cut enough. By a margin as big as the overwhelming majority it usually receives, Congressman Melvin Price, 67, East St. Louis Democrat, deserves re-election over his opponent, Robert B. Mays Jr., 28, East St. Louis Republican.

A member of Congress from this region for the past 28 years, Mr. Price stands near the pinnacle of the House of Representatives not only in seniority but in the respect of his colleagues and the public.

His expertise and leadership in such vital fields as atomic energy and the armed services are vital not only to the constituents of his own district but to people throughout America and the world.

Although honored by designation as House Democratic caucus chairman on various occasions and as chairman of the Congressional Committee on Official Conduct, "Mel" Price has kept his feet firmly on the ground. He still finds time in his extremely busy schedule to render prompt service to those with inquiries or problems.

A true giant of our federal government hierarchy, Congressman Price merits a hearty sendoff to a new term in Washington at Quad-City polling places Nov. 7.

Metric System Would Cause Painful Readjustment But Could Simplify Measuring, Achieve World Uniformity

(Illinois Current Report)

If you already know that a kilogram is 2.2 pounds, a pound is 453 grams and 32 degrees Fahrenheit is zero degrees Celsius, then you are on your way to the metric system where most of the rest of the world is already.

Because the way things look now, the United States government is very eager to convert pounds, ounces, quarts and cups to kilograms, liters and what used to be called centigrade but is now called Celsius.

Last year, the U.S. Department of Commerce completed a study on the feasibility of introducing the metric system into the United States. The department decided it would work.

Legislation is now being introduced in Congress that will set up a national metric conversion board to plan and oversee a 10-year program for this changeover.

But no matter how much press agency accompanies the arrival of the metric system, it's not going to be easy.

Having spent a lifetime remembering there are eight ounces in a cup and 16 ounces to a pound, the housewife is going to be reluctant to give up her hard-earned knowledge.

Since she isn't likely to throw away a lifetime's collection of cookbooks, she's going to have to follow a conversion chart when she cooks.

No two ways about it, it's going to be a terrific pain in the neck. But once the new language is learned, it should indeed simplify all measuring.

If you'd like to have a head start on everyone else, begin by learning these simple rules:

The meter is for length (1 meter equals 3.3 feet or 1.1 yards).

A kilometer is 1,000 meters (it is also 5/8 of a mile).

A meter is also 10 decimeters, 100 centimeters and 1,000 millimeters.

The gram is for weight.

A kilogram is 1,000 grams (a kilogram is equal to 2.2 pounds).

The liter is for volume. (A liter is 1.056 quart).

There are 1,000 milliliters in a liter. The usual form of measurement for liquids is in liters: 1/2 liter (500 milliliters), 1/4 liter (250 milliliters).

When it comes to temperature, it looks something like this:

Water freezes at 32 degrees F. and 0 degrees C.

Water boils at 212 degrees F. or 100 degrees C.

Normal body temperature is 98.6 degrees F. or 37 degrees C.

According to reports, during the conversion such things as can sizes will carry both the ounces and grams (metric) labels.

Since a customary 8-ounce cup is the equivalent of 236.6 milliliters, when the conversion period is over, a cup size will become 250 milliliters (1/4 liter).

Simple, right?

It's not too soon to start worrying.

Loss of Sanction, Respect Is Threat to Press Freedom

Comments by U.S. Senator Thomas F. Eagleton of Missouri on Oct. 14 to the Missouri Press Association:

Freedom of the press is in more danger today than the danger of two years ago.

The case of Peter Bridge should be a red flag to every American who believes in a free press. The former Newark Evening Star editor is serving an indefinite jail term for refusing to give a grand jury information beyond what he had written in articles about alleged corruption.

The vitriolic verbal attacks against press freedom of 1969 and 1970 have subsided. But their legacy lives on in the form of more subtle and more dangerous incursions.

The incursions are not necessarily malicious efforts to destroy a free press. But I believe they represent an officially sanctioned loss of reverence and respect for the very concept of press freedom.

Absolute privilege for reporters is not the issue. The central question is whether the government should allow the government to treat the press as its own investigative arm. Both House and Senate committees have held hearings on the need for legislative privilege for the press.

Cumulative events in recent years, including the attempted suppression of the Pentagon Papers and now the jailing of Mr. Bridge, should evoke concern for press freedom. I do not counsel over-reaction. But I think we have been given more than fair warning.

Case Against Government's Heavy Hand on Television

(Editor and Publisher magazine)

The appeal of Publisher Eugene C. Pulliam for newspaper support in the fight against government restrictions of television broadcasting, particularly by the bureaucratic regulations of the Federal Communications Commission without the consent of Congress, deserves serious consideration.

Pulliam has no financial interest directly or indirectly in television or radio. The essence of his message is that if free television succumbs to bureaucratic controls, the written press cannot be far behind.

With few exceptions, newspapers have not jumped to the defense of broadcasters in their many battles with the FCC over challenges to station renewals, exercise of the fairness doctrine, the philosophy of free news advertising, proposals for regulated free time and program controls, etc.

Some publishers, who have broadcast interests of their own, might feel that it would appear to be self-serving to speak out in print on these issues.

Some others have the mistaken idea that any misfortune that befalls their major advertising competitor will be good for newspapers.

We feel, as does Pulliam, that all media are in this fight together, whether they want it or not.

It is all very well to say that broadcast is already under government control because of licensing. But if it is anything to admit that licensing of broadcast channels gives government the right to regulate stations as to what they can or cannot, or must, air in free or paid time.

Proposals have already been made that because television advertising is regulated, the ban against cigarette ads, for instance, and counter-advertising newspaper advertising should be subject to the same rules.

Proposals are on the table to force television to provide a certain amount of free time for broadcasts of special interest. That is control of editorial content.

As you can bet your bottom dollar that, if it is made to stick in one medium, broadcasting, an attempt will be made to extend the philosophy to all media, especially newspapers.

It is sheer complacency to relax and state that it would be unconstitutional. Under creeping bureaucratic control and broadening court decisions, "unconstitutional" can become the least valuable word in our lexicon. Let's not permit it to become a hindside word.

Excesses in Criticism Cast Shadow on Reputable
Congressional Officials, Business Firms in U. S.

Copley News Service

The conclusions in Ralph Nader's report on Congress were predictable.

An 18-month study conducted by 1,000 or so of Nader's youthful volunteers must necessarily have some sort of impact to justify the effort, right?

And when the research is undertaken with preconceived notions of the result, the evidence should be easy to uncover.

But reaction to Nader's charge that Congress has "sold out" to the Executive Branch and to moneyed lobbyists was also predictable.

Complaints of inaccuracies, distortions and superficiality have revived speculation that Nader's credibility must suffer in his switch from disciple of consumerism to healer of the nation's ills.

There must be some serious questions as to whether the 266-page evaluation of "Who Runs Congress?" was worth the up-
 Nader's criticism of election campaign financing, the Congressional seniority system, reluctance of lawmakers to disclose outside interests and Congressional secrecy is nothing more than repetition of complaints made periodically on Senate and House floors and by candidates seeking to break into the club.

His call for reorganization wins sympathy from reformers in both houses, who have grown weary of the running battle with entrenched leaders of either major party.

The Nader report probably could have been written by any consistent newspaper reader with a typewriter handy.

Nader's charge at a news conference, called to herald his report, that the Nixon administration is "the most corrupt in history" must be weighed against the knowledge that the phrase has been a staple campaign theme of the presidential aspirant who once listed Nader among his choices for vice-president.

But the most implausible feature of the report was the assumption that Congress could hold a special "reform" session after completion of other business next year.

The session, of course, would be devoted to consideration of recommendations submitted by Mr. Nader.

Congress historically has had all it can do to dispose of the essential matters.

There is little dispute to the claim that Congress must upgrade itself. The creaking legislative machinery is overdue for a comprehensive turnup.

But Congressional deficiencies can be attributed to those failings common throughout the political structure. It is unfair to imply that it has surrendered as a body to political expediency or greed.

Nader gained a deserved reputation for his emerging theme — one that is heard often in today's political campaigning — that the federal government's responsibilities extend to all problems and failings in the nation, including personal ones.

Nader, who gave impetus to the consumer movement, has more recently turned his attention to the deficiencies of government.

After brief forays into California and Delaware, he is now voicing reports hinting at rampant inefficiencies and corruption in state leadership.

Now he has devoted his time to a study of Congress, the results of which were awaited in moodings ranging from apprehension to indifference.

In the meantime, the crusade to protect the public from purveyors of shoddy merchandise or services goes on, as public agencies and dedicated amateurs have taken up the banner temporarily put aside by Nader.

There can be no quarrel with the motives or the accomplishments of a variety of federal programs, state offices and county and city projects designed to educate the consumer and listen to his complaints.

The fly-by-night operators, the incompetent servicemen and the glib con man, unfortunately, continue to profit at the expense of the unwary.

And the victims of consumer fraud are beneficiaries of the new emphasis on consumer education in the marketplace.

But there is danger that the remedy for consumer exploitation may have adverse side effects.

The cost of safety improvements, notably in the automobile industry, have been well publicized.

The price of new cars continues to inch upward, due in part to mandatory features that may or may not be desired by the purchaser.

Similarly, a state Assembly committee is studying legislation that would require certification of avocado containers that the contents meet standards of quality and maturity.

The added costs of administering the program, however, are surely, be passed on to the supermarket consumer, who predictably would continue to drive the fruit to determine its suitability for the dinner salad.

And with the price of avocados hanging around the 79-cent level, neither grower nor consumer is likely to applaud the protective measure.

Thomas Shepard, publisher of the now-defunct Look magazine, recently deplored the extremes of the consumer movement as an attack on the free enterprise system itself.

Yet the system provides the consumer the ultimate weapon in dealing with real or fancied injustices.

Department store owners have long recognized that the meanest, most vindictive customer is the one who simply doesn't come back.

The honest mistake or a rare flaw in a normally dependable product, instead of being resolved reasonably between buyer and seller, may be debated in court.

Mistrust and a suspicion threaten to replace the mutual confidence of business and consumer on the American economic flourish and a nation grew strong.

Teapot Vs. Dove Story Nov. 7?

We have noted in the past that we try, and usually succeed, in conferring with competing candidates on the election issues.

Most of the aspirants on the Nov. 7 state ballot have stopped at the Press-Record to chat.

The 1972 Presidential campaign has not been physically present in the Quad-Cities but we have been kept posted on their comments and positions by a number of publications.

Here is a sampling: MCGOVERN-SHRIVER NEWS SERVICE — "A service to the nation's editors. All material is original. It may be reprinted in whole, in part, with or without attribution."

Headlines Oct. 11 included "Nixon takes credit for Social Security checks" and "Congressman supporting McGovern" and asserted, "Prisoners of war will support McGovern."

The News Service cited "physical support" from McGovern and asserted, "Prisoners of war will support McGovern."

The Oct. 4 edition reported "major crime in U.S. up 30% with Nixon"; "farmers losing rightful income"; "Nixon aides studying new tax bite"; "unemployed rate severe in 18 states"; "betrayed promises"; "President would curb aid to China" and "housing policies aid rich."

An introductory statement, in large type stressed, "As the campaign heats up, the crowds grow larger and the cheers and applause that greet George McGovern as he appears on the campaign trail are deafening."

The Oct. 2 issue featured a color photo of President Nixon shaking hands with a crowd of voters and reported part of his talk to the International Narcotics Control Conference.

An article was titled, "Advisor reveals that McGovern's foreign policy would be based on appeasement of Communist adventurism, sell-out of American allies." The advisor is identified as Abraham Gales, chairman of a foreign affairs advisory panel to the Democratic nominee.

Other headlines include "McGovern defense policies insure peace" and "McGovern to return to neo-isolationism." The headline on the latter reads, "McGovern to return to neo-isolationism."

Also, "McGovern should repudiate underhanded assistance he's receiving from Hanoi radio broadcasts — American prisoners of war"; "New McGovern campaign labeled apple of worms, sour wine in old bottles"; and "both sides of the coin being worked by McGovern on party issue — farmers told one thing, housewives another."

STRAIGHT TALK — from the Democratic National Committee. The Sept. 22 headline was "Harding's Teapot Dome scandal, penny-ante compared to Nixon's coincidences."

The same Democratic publication suggested derisively: "Being investigated by Internal Revenue? Seeking a bank check for any oil wells? Then consider Democrats for Nixon."

It contends that "prices increased faster during controls" and "it is even more true for your family registered to vote?"

NEWS, Citizens and Volunteers for the Re-Election of the President — news release from Charles E. Shearer Jr., national executive director of the Citizens Committee to Re-Elect President Nixon.

Each is a separate article about a national committee newly formed in a particular field, ranging literally from motorcycles to securities industry brokers to Indians, Aleuts and eskimos. Each lists a national chairman and regional chairmen.

Shearer describes it as a grassroots campaign involving more than 30 groups, 390 national chapters.

Public Hearings Planned on Nuclear Reactor Safety

Chairman John O. Pastore and Vice-Chairman Melvin Price have announced that the Joint Congressional Committee on Atomic Energy is planning to hold public hearings on the general subject of nuclear reactor safety early in the forthcoming congressional session.

The committee is awaiting the completion of a comprehensive safety review report which was requested by the committee of the Atomic Energy Commission in late 1971. The committee was recently informed that the report is in the final stages of preparation.

The commission plans to solicit the views of knowledgeable organizations and individuals in the nuclear reactor, energy and environmental fields as a final step in the completion of the study to assure that all significant aspects are covered.

The committee has been informed that the Atomic Energy Commission expects to complete the safety study and publish the report in December.

Chairman Pastore said:

"This report on reactor safety was requested by the committee in order that an organized and comprehensive presentation of the subject would be available as the focal point for committee hearings.

"The committee plans to allow sufficient time for review of the report by all interested parties prior to the conduct of our hearings.

"Proceeding in this manner I would expect that we could have an orderly and efficient review of the present status of nuclear safety and the plans for future work in this field."

It was stated that one of the objectives of the planned hearing was to develop a public record in which all of the factors involved in reactor safety would be set down in proper perspective. It was also stated that neither the announcement of the planned hearings nor their conduct are intended to affect the AEC's present regulatory activities and responsibilities.

In making the announcement Pastore and Price said they believed that the hearings could be conducted early in the congressional session next year. Congressman Price stressed the growing dependence on nuclear energy in the United States. He said:

"In 1963 the joint committee held extensive hearings on the role which nuclear power should play in meeting our long term energy needs. In these hearings general agreement was reached on the need for supplementing our longer term energy supplies by the development and utilization of nuclear energy.

"Events in the interim have increased the need for nuclear energy. As explained by Dr. Edward David, the President's science adviser, in his statement before the committee last month, we are not doing as well as we had planned in reducing the environmental impact from the use of fossil fuels, particularly coal.

"Obviously we must do a better job in improving our use of coal. We must take greater advantage of our wealth of fossil fuels as was the intent when our civilian nuclear power program was established 10 years ago.

"The set-backs and uncertainties in the coal and petroleum industries place a greater load on nuclear energy than we originally anticipated."

Price referred to recent expressions of concern in some quarters relative to the safety of nuclear power. He went on to explain the primary importance of nuclear power in obtaining the best solutions to environmental effects and general safety problems in all phases of the development of this new technology. He said:

"In no area of technology has greater emphasis been given to safety and environmental considerations than in the development of nuclear technology. From the very beginning we have recognized that there are areas on which we should not reduce emphasis.

"Since concern has developed in the minds of certain people, we believe it appropriate to have a comprehensive review of these matters. We chose to proceed in the same manner as was done in the early 1960s in setting up the nation's civilian nuclear power program.

"This was to initiate a comprehensive review and study of the matter by those specifically responsible for activities in this field and then obtain contributions from other knowledgeable sources."

The committee plans to announce a specific schedule for the hearings after receipt of the study. One of the variables which precludes setting the date at this time was identified to be the unknown magnitude and nature of the contributions from knowledgeable people outside of the Atomic Energy Commission which must be considered in the completed report.

Committee members have stressed the importance of considering such contributions in order that the Congress and the public receive a comprehensive and professionally sound review of these matters.

One Vote This Year for Governor, Lieutenant

By RAY SERATI
Copy News Service

Springfield—This year for the first time Illinoisians will be casting one vote for governor and lieutenant governor as is now done for president and vice-president.

The change in the system of voting for the two offices comes about through the adoption of the new constitution. So this year when the voter marks his or her ballot for governor the vote will also count for lieutenant governor.

This system will stop in the future occurrence that happened in 1968, when Republican Gov. Richard B. Ogilvie was elected and the Democratic candidate for lieutenant governor, Paul Simon, was elected. This one vote system is only in the general election.

Also under the provisions of the 1970 constitution, some of the duties of the lieutenant governor will be changed after this year.

Probably the biggest change will concern the Illinois Senate. Under the new constitution, the lieutenant governor will no longer be the presiding officer of the Senate. When the 78th General Assembly convenes in January the membership will select its own presiding officer.

Therefore the party that controls the Senate, will be selecting the presiding officer. This is the way the presiding officer of the House—the Speaker—is selected.

Held Slim Margin
So each of the parties are out to try and wrest control of the Senate. In this past session they were tied, but since Simon, a Democrat, was the presiding officer, the Democrats held the thin margin.

Since the lieutenant governor won't be using a great deal of his time as the presiding officer in the Senate, it will mean that he will be able to work closely with the governor. This could mean additional duties which the governor decides to pass along to the lieutenant governor.

By working within the framework of the executive branch of government, the lieutenant governor surely will be called upon to carry out tasks for the governor such as meeting with citizens who might have questions or problems on the working of state government or state laws. The lieutenant governor may also get duties assigned to him by the General Assembly.

Dr. Northrup Speaker For Manufacturers

Dr. Herbert R. Northrup, chairman of the Labor Relations Council and director of the Industrial Research Unit at The Wharton School of the University of Pennsylvania, will be the speaker at the opening dinner meeting of the Southern Division of the Illinois Manufacturers' Association.

The meeting will begin at 6:30 p.m. today at August's Restaurant in Belleville. The event is the first in a series of four dinner meetings marking the 9th annual series of meetings of the division.

Among the division members is the Manufacturers' Association of the Tri-Cities. A hospitality hour will precede the meeting, beginning at 5:30 p.m.

TRI-CITY DATSUN

49 E. EDWARDSVILLE RD. WOOD RIVER PHONE 254-3811

Buy any new '72 Volkswagen and we'll give you free service for 12 months/12,000 miles.

What the plan is all about: No manufacturer's warranty in the world covers normal maintenance work. But our service plan does.

With the service contract we're giving away you can get your engine tuned, your wheels aligned, and your brakes, fan belt and clutch adjusted whenever you need to, without spending a cent.

Lube jobs are free. Spark plugs are free. Points, condensers, wiper blades, fuses, hoses, even light bulbs are free. We'll look for trouble, too. And you won't have to pay for the inspections, either.

Actually, for 12 months or 12,000 miles (depending on whichever comes first) you won't have to pay for any of the service you'd normally pay for, with a Volkswagen or any other car. Because, except for gas, tires and collision damage, your problems are our problems.

Now what do we expect from you? You have to buy a new '72 Beetle, Super Beetle, Station Wagon, Squareback, Type 3, Karmann Ghia, Camptone, or 411 from us. You have to bring it back where you bought it every 3 months or 3,000 miles so we can maintain it according to Volkswagen's maintenance schedule.

And you can't modify, abuse or torture it. That's it.

Except for one last detail. We can't make this offer indefinitely. So don't put off coming to see us. Wouldn't you rather kick our tires than kick yourself?

Street Department for Pontoon Beach Proposed

A proposal that Pontoon Beach establish its own street department has been presented to the Village Board during a regular meeting.

Trustee John Cole suggested that the village investigate the cost of purchasing a tractor and other street repair equipment. Trustee Dr. Dean Rochester objected, saying Cole was not even a member of the street committee.

Cole said he would investigate the cost of the proposal and compare it with the cost of entering into an agreement with Nameoki Township to use the township equipment for the work.

Cole said purchasing a tractor and equipment likely would be cheaper in the long run because the village could buy the equipment from the general fund, and collect a rental on the use of the tractor from state motor fuel tax funds. The funds could revert to the general fund, Cole explained.

He also suggested the village have the firm of Sheppard, Morgan and Schwab, engineers, conduct a study of the village streets to determine the cost of making them permanent roads. The board agreed.

Cole asked why the state had not paved the entrances to Lake Drive and Breckenridge Lane at Pontoon Road in compliance with an agreement in which the village would supply the materials if the state would do the paving.

Otto Kreher, board president, appointed Cole and Recor as a committee to correspond with the state highway department and urge that the work be completed as soon as possible.

Census Planned
The board agreed to begin preparations for a census of the village to update population figures. The census, which would be conducted by the board and local residents, would not be official but if a significantly larger number of people was determined to reside in the village than the previous federal census had indicated, the board could request that a new federal census of the area be conducted.

Cole explained that the new census would have three purposes. The main one would be to increase the village's motor fuel tax allotment, which are based upon the number of residents as determined by the latest census, if the new census showed a population increase.

Secondary purposes would be to assist village officials in preparing an official poll book to determine who is eligible to vote in the Nov. 7 general and the April village election. The census also could be used to determine if all village residents are paying the utility tax, he explained.

Plan Blood Drive
Kreher appointed Dr. Rochester head a blood donor drive in the village under a request by Governor Richard B. Ogilvie for blood drives to relieve a shortage of whole fresh blood in area blood banks.

The use of professional donors' blood by the banks was outlawed by the state due to numerous reports of hepatitis and other diseases being spread by professional donors.

The board promoted Lennie Sloan from a specially-commissioned policeman to a part-time patrolman with the village police department. The trustees also were informed that Patrolman Quint Towery has completed a special first-aid course and is certified as an instructor. Towery will conduct first-aid classes for all village policemen this week, the trustees were informed.

Mrs. Mary Sturdivant, 5 Victoria Drive, Pontoon Beach, was sworn in as the new village clerk at the meeting.

Mrs. Sturdivant replaces Mrs. Dorothy Simpson who resigned because she and her family are moving from the village. Mrs. Simpson's resignation became effective Sept. 21 and Rochester has served as temporary clerk since.

Mrs. Sturdivant was sworn in by Dr. Rochester and assumed her duties for the remainder of the meeting. She is the wife of the village health officer, Charles Sturdivant.

The board approved two petitions for annexation into the village. The properties annexed were those of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar W. Strong, Nameoki Gardens Subdivision lots 15, 17 and 18, and the property of Mr. and Mrs. George Gavlick, lot 34 of the Lakeview Estates Subdivision.

The village attorney was asked to determine if the village must comply with an Illinois Environmental Protection program for the Quiet Valley Lagoon.

Two Pleaded Guilty, Two Cases Dismissed
Two defendants charged with major crimes in the Quad-City area have pleaded guilty and two other cases were dismissed in Madison County Circuit Court.

Grin W. Howard, 48 of Belleville, was convicted of taking indecent liberties with a Granite City boy, 12, here last July. A pre-sentence hearing on aggravation and mitigation is set for Oct. 31.

Mabel Newby, 24, of West Madison, was convicted of battery, reduced from aggravated battery, on a charge of throwing scalding water on a Madison boy, 11, on July 10. A probation hearing is set for Oct. 30.

A charge of attempted murder against Dennis O. Hinchcliff, 25, of Granite City, was dismissed after the complaining witness refused to testify. He had been charged with attempting to drown Mrs. Beverly Hardin, 25, of 2555 Washington Ave., his ex-wife, in the Chain of Rocks Canal at the Interstate 270 bridge last July 7.

Charges of burglary filed early this year against Jimmie Ray and Robert Baker of Granite City also were dismissed.

Apple Snacking Pushed, Illinois Crop Plentiful

By CATHERINE R. MAUCK
Madison County Extension
Adviser - Home Economics

Fresh apples for delicious and nutritious snacking are featured on the USDA's October Plentiful Foods list. For the fourth consecutive year, the apple crop is predicted to total about 150 million cartons.

In Illinois, the three most popular varieties are Jonathan, Red Delicious and Golden Delicious. However McIntosh, Rome Beauty and Winesaps are also marketed here.

The Jonathan apple, small to medium in size, has a dark red color. It is juicy, moderately tart, tender, crisp and fragrant. Excellent for eating raw, Jonathan's are also good for pies and sauces.

The five bumps on the blossom end of Delicious apples distinguish them from the other varieties. A native midwesterner, the Red Delicious is preferred for eating raw and for use in salads. Golden Delicious apples are good all-around apples for snacking and for cooking.

The McIntosh, an especially fragrant apple, has a bright, deep-red skin that is striped with a more vivid blue-red (carmine). It descended from one tree planted by a Canadian family of that name. Marketed mostly in northern Illinois, it is a medium-to small-sized apple, crisp, hard, juicy and moderately tart. Use it for eating raw, cooking or baking.

The Rome Beauty, an Ohio native, rates as one of the finest apples for general cooking and baking. A large apple, it has yellow or green skin that is mottled or striped with red. Rome Beauties are juicy, slightly tart, firm and rather crisp.

One of the oldest varieties in the United States, the Winesap apple dates back to colonial times. This small-to medium-sized apple has deep, bright red skin marked with small, scattered, whitish dots. Winesaps are good for all purposes—eating raw, general cooking or baking whole.

National Apple Week is Oct. 26 through Nov. 4, so treat the Halloween ghosts and goblins who visit your door with a nutritious snack—apples.

The Nov. 1 session will take place at Grace Baptist Church at 10 a.m., and yarn pictures and decorative plaques will be the craft items. Mrs. Taylor will serve as instructor.

Mrs. Paul Harshany and Mrs. Stanley Stetka reported on a Christmas party to be held at Heritage House, St. Louis, Wednesday, Dec. 6, at noon. Reservations are to be made with Mrs. Harshany.

A GYMNASIUM WALL rises where there once was only a prairie as bricklayers pile brick upon brick and block upon block at the new Granite City High School North, Nameoki and Maryville roads.

Workers here construct the interior wall of the south, or girls', balcony. The side walls will be added later.

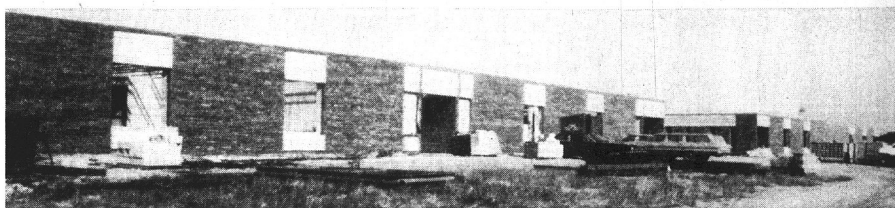

THE MAIN ENTRANCE to the new high school will look completely different than it does here after an exterior wall is completed at the front edge of the white block area. E. L. Rule, supervisor of construction, left, and Tully A. Heubner, director of school buildings and grounds, stand in the main office hallway.

MUSIC DEPARTMENT CORRIDOR at Granite City High School North, now cluttered with construction materials, hopefully will be filled with students by August 1973 if construction continues on schedule.

LONG AND LOW is the profile of the front of the new high school as it begins to take shape. The front, on the south side, is nearly complete except for window frames and trim. The dirt construction road in the foreground and at the left eventually will become a hard surface drive to the main entrance at the break in the center of the building.

Bill Regulating Campaign Financing Under Study

Chairman Melvin Price, (D-East St. Louis), of the House Committee on Standards of Official Conduct, this week announced the committee has retained Booz-Allen Public Administration Services, New York, N. Y., to conduct a preliminary feasibility study of "Operation Clean Bill," a plan previously advanced by Cong. Price for handling the financing of political campaigns.

"We have given much study to the plan," Price said, "and we believe it holds the promise of proving to be what we need to solve the problem of campaign financing once and for all. Quite a number of knowledgeable individuals in the field of raising and regulating political money agree."

As explained by Cong. Price, who first advanced the plan a year ago after study by his committee, the proposal calls for establishment of a marketplace in which numerous small contributions would be generated by active merchandising.

"Its emphasis would be on raising legitimate political money in a manner free of any conflict-of-interest possibility," he said.

He said it is hoped the study can be completed by the end of the year so that the next Congress can give it early consideration.

18,000 Billboards Registered; State To Begin Check

By RAY SERATI
Copley News Service

Springfield—More than 18,000 billboards are registered with the Illinois Transportation Department according to the law passed during this year's General Assembly.

Arch Blackard, of the Transportation Department's right-of-way acquisition section, reports that of the total about 250 are signs that don't have to be registered. These include such signs as the on-premise signs. Under the law the registration ended offically Sept. 28. There were no provisions in the legislation which was handled by Rep. C. L. McCormick, R-Vienna, for an extended period on sign registration.

Blackard said, hopefully, by the end of this month all of the registrations will be checked. Then the inventory on the unregistered signs will get under way early in November. This will probably take about two months to cover the entire state. Then an additional 30 days will be given for notification to the sign owners.

Blackard said it will be the middle of February before the removal of unregistered signs begins.

Under the provisions of the law the Transportation Department will negotiate with owners of signs that are registered but do not fully meet all of the requirements. These owners will be compensated for taking their signs down. The unregistered signs will come down with no compensation for anyone.

It is hoped that the unregistered signs will be taken off the primary and interstate highway system by next summer.

Under the provisions of the law the signs are to be regulated in size, type, lighting and placement. They will not be allowed any closer than 650 feet to the highway right-of-way.

The sign program is part of a federal program to upgrade the countryside. Funds for the removal of the signs and the compensation will come from federal grants received by Illinois from the U. S. Transportation Department.

A. O. Smith Corp. Sales Show Gains in Quarter

A. O. Smith Corp. sales in the third quarter were $106,154,000 compared with $103,912,000 last year. Nine month sales were $300,770,000 compared with $344,341,000 in 1971, Chairman L. B. Smith has announced.

The third quarter is traditionally A. O. Smith's lowest period in the year.

Smith attributed the fall off in profits to labor and cost difficulties in the company's elevator business, a lack of business at an affiliate line pipe manufacturing company and the most extensive model changes in the history of the automotive division.

He particularly cited national strikes in the elevator industry and a lack of orders for line pipe as contributing to the profit drop.

"We estimate that if the elevator and line pipe businesses had been performing at the same levels as last year, our profits in 1972 would be 60 cents per share higher," Smith said.

While profits are down somewhat in the automotive division,

Smith said the division has done well in the face of large scale model changes, and the profit margin squeeze caused by the Economic Stabilization Program.

The automotive division, which is the nation's largest manufacturer of auto and truck frames, completed three major model changes in the third quarter—intermediate size passenger car frames, truck frames and control arms.

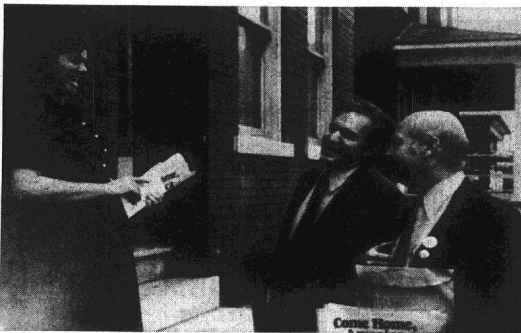

The changes went smoothly and the division has experienced high volume all through the year. He said he expects the high volume to continue for the remainder of 1972 and into 1973.

Strikes in the elevator industry, served by the company's Armco Elevator subsidiaries, have been the most serious problems faced by A. O. Smith so far this year, Smith said.

The elevator industry suffered through a 100-day national strike which affected all parts of the U. S., except New York City. On July 3, just seven days before the national strike ended, construction workers in New York went on strike and all still out.

In Canada, several months of labor unrest commenced Sept. 8 when a construction workers there went on strike. That work stoppage also remains unsettled, Smith said.

Cost reduction programs, a management reorganization and the institution of tighter controls on every phase of operation are having a favorable impact and will enable Armco to PARTY'S CANVASS OF HOMES by candidates and other volunteers is proceeding in the Quad-Cities. Goal of the Democratic foot canvass is to contact all potential voters prior to the Nov. 7 election. return to a profitable position once labor difficulties are settled, he added.

Installation of large diameter pipe lines has slowed considerably in the U. S., Smith said, because of a lack of new natural gas supplies. This condition, plus strong foreign competition, has substantially reduced the market for U. S. made pipe, which is manufactured by A. O. Smith Corp. of Texas, a 50%-owned affiliate of A. O. Smith.

Smith said A. O. Smith of Texas has had no business since May. Management continues to seek a solution to this situation, he said.

National and 3 Others Award Contract for An Experimental Coke Pellet Pilot Plant

Widespread interest is being generated by this week's award of a construction contract for a $25 million to $30 million experimental coke pellet process 500-ton-per-day pilot plant.

The four-company group includes National Steel Corp., representing its subsidiary, Granite City Steel Co., which was a participant in the program prior to its merger with National Steel.

The pilot plant is designed to develop a better coke-making process which will control gas and dust emissions such as those associated with present coke ovens. It also is intended to permit greater flexibility in use of coal.

Since more than $7 million has already been spent by the four-company group in the development, the total overall project cost may be as high as $37 million.

Bethlehem Steel Corp., National Steel Corp. and Republic Steel Corp. have joined with Consolidated Coal Co. in the letting of the contract to Dravo Corp. and the Lurgi Mineralogisch Technik Co. of Germany for engineering and construction of the coke pellet plant.

It is expected that Dravo and Lurgi will assist in marketing the process throughout the world following completion of the pilot program.

The pilot plant will be built at Bethlehem's steel-producing complex in Sparrows Point, Md., one of the nation's largest steel plants.

The Consol-BNR (Bethlehem, National and Republic) Process is one of a series of formed coke developments that have attracted great attention because of the increasing world-wide shortage of good coking coal and the intensive search for solutions to air and water pollution problems.

The Consol-BNR Process yields a strong coke pellet product by direct hot pelletizing of a single high-volatile coal followed by calcining.

Because it does not use conventional briquetting machines, larger proportions of coking coal or binders can be used. This is considered important because increased use of such binders strengthens the final product, a key consideration in blast furnace use.

Engineering for the experimental plant is under way and the construction is expected to begin by the end of the year and be completed by 1974. Blast furnace tests are scheduled for 1973.

Bethlehem Steel will supervise the construction and operation of the plant and carry out the blast furnace tests.

The development of this new method of making blast furnace coke, from benchscale tests through a 15- to 30-ton-per-day pilot plant, has been conducted since 1960 under group sponsorship at Consolidated Coal's Research and Development Center at Liberty, Pa., a Pittsburgh suburb.

Research and development work on further refinements to make the process applicable to an even wider range of coals—including poorly coking and high sulfur types—will continue at Consol's Liberty facility.

The fully enclosed process not only minimizes air and water pollution from cokingmaking but also minimizes the need to dispose of chemical byproducts from manufacture of the coke.

Furthermore, adoption of the new process will stretch the rapidly dwindling supplies of scarce low-volatile coal, it is believed.

The new process holds out the possibility that coke plants may one day be located at mine mouths, such as many electric generating plants are today.

We have found it necessary to install a priority system for new gas service. The Illinois Commerce Commission has approved this system so that new service can be granted in an orderly fashion. Written application to Illinois Power Company is required for new or increased service.

This comes about as a result of the inability of our pipeline suppliers to continue increasing our gas supply. We regret the need for establishing priorities.

If you have gas service now, no action is required unless you plan increases in gas usage.

The list of priorities is shown below. For further details, call your Illinois Power Company business office.

1. Residential space heating and small commercial space heat requirements not exceeding 250,000 Btu per hour.
2. Firm gas requirements not exceeding 1,500,000 Btu per hour.

Pontoon Seeks Payment For Maintaining Lots

The Pontoon Beach Village Board has voted to send bills to owners of properties being maintained by the village.

The village has been spending about $50 per week cutting grass and otherwise maintaining private property not taken care of by the owners.

A bill for grass cutting on private property was questioned at the board meeting by Trustee John Cole who asked if the village is being reimbursed by the property owners for cutting the grass and weeds.

Trustee Fred Reecer protested the service was part of a "Good Neighbor Policy" to keep the village looking nice and that the cost of trying to collect for the service would exceed the amount collected.

"It doesn't amount to a hill of beans. Let's cut the grass and forget it," Reecer said.

The issue led to a heated dispute between Reecer and

Mrs. Charles Percy Is Luncheon Guest of Area Republican Women

Mrs. Charles Percy, wife of the U.S. senator from Illinois, was a special guest at the fall meeting of the Madison County Federation of Republican Women held Monday in Edwardsville.

Mrs. Maxine Grissman, president of the Granite City Republican Women's Club, Mrs. Edna Richter and Mrs. Verne Worthington, all of Granite City and officers in the county organization, took part in the conference.

Others attending from the local club were Mesdames Paula Smith, Rose Darling, Nettie Coon, Pearl Thomas, Hazel Atchison and Gladys Newman.

Mrs. Janet Connors of Flossmoor spoke to the women on behalf of Gov. Richard Ogilvie. Madison County Coroner Robert Thomas and Ralph Astorion, Republican candidate for recorder of deeds, both of Granite City, were luncheon guests.

Mrs. Worthington, campaign activities chairman, announced a "Day for the President" promotion will take place Saturday, when GOP supporters are being asked to drive with lighted headlights on automobiles, fly the U.S. flag and wear clothing items in red, white and blue. Cake and coffee will be served all day Saturday to visitors at GOP campaign headquarters in Nameoki Village Shopping Center and at 1940 State St., Mrs. Wortman said.

Mrs. Thomas is serving as cake chairman and Mrs. Richter, "Volunteers for Headquarters," chairman, is heading a telephone committee for the "Illinois Older Citizens Group" and addressing campaign literature, Mrs. Wortman noted.

Volunteers still are needed to help with planned activities, the women's coordinator said. She asked interested persons to call 876-5748 or 931-4477 for information or to volunteer.

Mrs. Thomas, 2608 Hodges Ave., will host the Granite City GOP Women's Club at its Nov. 2 meeting.

Quad-City Clinic Receives Pi Eta Gift

"Children — Special Education in the Schools" was the topic of Charles DeGracento, a psychologist from the Quad-City Mental Health Clinic, who spoke last week at the October meeting of Pi Eta Chapter, Beta Sigma Phi Sorority.

His talk covered programs arranged in the school system for children with physical and mental handicaps and those youngsters with learning or emotional disabilities.

A donation to aid in special projects at the Quad-City clinic was presented to the guest speaker by Mrs. Ellen Wilson, service chairman, and Mrs. Cheryl Pounds, Pi Eta vice president.

The group met at the home of Mrs. Pounds, 1732 Bremen Ave. Decorations in a fall and Halloween theme were used in refreshment table appointments and throughout the residence.

Plans were made to hold a Halloween party for members and their husbands on Saturday, Oct. 28, at the home of Charles DeGracento, a psychologist from the Quad-City Mental Health Clinic, who spoke last week at the October meeting of Pi Eta Chapter, Beta Sigma Phi Sorority.

'Country' Luncheon for Gardenaires

The country home of Mrs. John Farrell in Fosterburg, Ill., was the setting last week for the October meeting of the Gardenaires Garden Club of Granite City.

The event was combined with a special luncheon honoring club members for a gift of herb, flower and vegetable seeds.

The letter, written in Portuguese, was translated for club members by Mrs. Muriel Kratz and John Sellmeyer, Spanish teachers at Granite City High School.

Part of the text stated—"As much as the seeds are appreciated—even more so is the encouragement you offer us in the difficult task of horticultural work in our area. Your offer is an immense incentive to all of us. The seeds will be planted in different locations around schools and I will send you photographs."

Mrs. Eads said a thank you note concerning the seeds sent overseas was received from Mrs. William Hedley of St. Louis, 3rd vice-president of the National Council of State Garden Clubs, who is a keen advocate of "world gardening" projects and is interested in efforts made by the Granite City club.

Mrs. Earl Glenn described her experiences on a recent trip to Europe and the "Florida," the worldwide horticulture show held in Amsterdam, Holland. She presented each club member a gift of tulip bulbs purchased from the foisting gardeners in Holland.

Prior to the luncheon and business meeting, members took part in a workshop to construct miniature flower pictures. The items will be sold to help underwrite the club's activities in connection with the Mini-Garden Information Center at the Granite City Public Library.

The display at the library during October focuses on "Conservation — Game and Field Birds."

Other members attending the day-long event were Mrs. Charles Kohl, Mrs. William Long, Mrs. Mary Kristian, Mrs. A. A. Malottki and a guest, Mrs. Mildred James.

Surbey Cited As A Top Student of English in U. S.

Paul Dean Surbey of Granite City High School has been cited as one of the outstanding high school students of English in the country.

The National Council of Teachers of English has named him a 1972 runner-up in its annual Achievement Awards competition.

Last spring, the English department of the high school nominated Surbey to represent the school in the competition. The school was allotted one entry from the junior class for every 300 students in total school enrollment, according to Miss Helen R. Kuestner, English department chairman.

After nomination, each student submitted samples of his best writing, including an autobiographical sketch, and wrote a one-hour impromptu essay. The materials were evaluated by state judging teams of highly qualified college and high school English teachers directed by state coordinators.

The nation's schools participating in the program nominated about 7,200 juniors for the NCTE citations. Of that number, only about 870 finalists were chosen. They represent schools from 50 states, the District of Columbia, and American preparatory schools abroad.

In announcing the winners, Robert P. Hogan, executive secretary of the National Council of Teachers of English, said that the council recommends these students, now seniors, for college scholarships in 1973, should they need such assistance. The names of these students are sent to admissions officers and English department chairmen at U.S. junior colleges, colleges, and universities.

The NCTE sends to all winners and runners-up certificates of recognition and also honors their high school English departments with certificates of merit, reports James L. DuMont, principal.

The honoree is the son of the Rev. and Mrs. Paul Surbey, 2901 Nameoki Road.

Bob Seger Sells Million, Still Seeks Limelight

By JUDY HUGG
Copley News Service

Ask Bob Seger the definition of obscurity and he'd probably say it is selling nearly a million records, three of which were in the top 10 in Detroit, and still be unknown in many parts of the country.

In fact, up until now, he has not had much influence outside of the Midwest although he has been one of the major shaping forces of the midwestern rock 'n' roll scene.

However, for the past two years, Seger has worked methodically, picking and choosing the musicians for his new band, which he hopes will bring him out of obscurity and into the national limelight.

A great deal of intensive rehearsing and endless energies have gone into Seger's latest album called "Smokin' O.P.S.," on the Palladium label.

"Smoking O.P.'s" are four guys who make enough music to sound like eight and most of it is pretty decent stuff. All dressed up like a popular cigarette pack, the LP contains many familiar songs, a good idea for a new group because you already know most of the lyrics. It also allows comparison with the original artists and Seger's group comes out on top on many of the cuts.

Group Named

The group is comprised of Seger, who is lead vocalist; David Teggarden, drums and maracas; Skip (Van Winkle) Knappe, organ and Michael (Monk) Bruce on the guitar. Pam Todd and Crystal Jenkins also help out vocally on several of the cuts.

Together they put out some good, hot cockin' rock and some fine old songs. Some of the better cuts include "Turn On Your Love Light," "Hummin' Bird," "Someday," "Love The One You're With" and the old rocker "Bo Diddley."

You understand why the word "emotional" is applied to Russian music when you hear RCA-Victrol's new LP called "A Festival of Russian Music" (VICS-1088).

On this record Fritz Reiner and the Chicago Symphony play music from Tchaikovsky, Moussorgsky, Glinka, Borodin and Kabalevsky. All that means a lot of thunder in the drums and some lips in the trumpet section. Back or Mozart, it is not.

Reiner chose from among the Tchaikovsky library "Marche Slave" and "Marche Miniature." The "Marche Slave" is music on the grand scale, its insistent drumbeat, carrying with it the feeling of a nation on the march.

19th Century Composer

Modeste Mussorgsky, a 19th century composer who revolutionized music with new scales, rhythms and harmonies, is represented by his scary "A Night On Bald Mountain." Listening to it, one thinks of wind and rain and flashes of green lightning bursting over the mountain. The violence and images of mad Saitic dances are followed by a sudden calm which is as unreal as the spectral sounds that preceded it.

The entry from Michael Glinka is "Russian and Ludmilla," which was first performed in 1842. This is one of the "best" music ever written. It also is notable for the common images it evokes in common with much Russian music.

Alexander Borodin's "Prince Igor: Polovtsian March" again is full-throated Russian music carried along by the throbbing push of the bass drum. Borodin was one of the world's most unusual composers. He first was an army physician and then a professor of chemistry. He never composed when his work at the piano might disturb anyone. As a result his total output was meager.

Although a more modern composer, Kabalevsky's music could never be mistaken for anything but Russian. There are echoes of "Bald Mountain" in the beautiful melody elaborately presented in Kabalevsky's "Colas Breugnot."

Goes Steady 3 Years, Now Wants 'Great Escape'

By PAT AND MARILYN DAVIS
Copley News Service

Dear Pat and Marilyn:
My problem is going steady. I've gone with the same girl for three years. We are now both sophomores in college and I think we should get out of the groove we've been in.

Our relationship has become dull and monotonous. I'm ready to date others and add a little zip to my life. However, telling both the facts of life won't be easy and I'm not sure how to make my escape. After all, this girl loves me and will be heartbroken.

Dear Al:

What is this—THE GREAT ESCAPE? Tell Beth you intend to date others and that she is free to do the same. Finding someone to take your place may be easier than you think. Dear Pat and Marilyn:
My boyfriend and I have been living together for over a year. He will graduate from college in a few months and tells me he is going to travel and see the world.

He wants me to go with him but says he will go with or without me. In fact, I have a deep down feeling that "with-out" might be his preference. How he intends to travel I do not know as he has no money. I have a very good job, which I really enjoy, and do not want to give it up.

I know I can advance with this company and my job has become a very important part of my life.

I know that if we separate at this point it is the end of our relationship. I do not want to lose Ed but I am afraid I would feel even worse about giving up my job. Do you think a marriage counselor could help?

Dear CB:
A good marriage counselor could surely help. However, are you quite certain that you are ready for marriage? If your present job means more to you than this young man, you are not ready for a lasting relationship.

And the fact that you feel this young man would just as soon take a trip without you does not qualify him as a candidate for a permanent commitment at this point.

Why not let Ed take his vacation alone? In the meantime, you can concentrate on your job.

After a few months you may be better able to make a decision. You didn't ask me—BUT I am against this live-in type of arrangement. Emotions become involved and someone is hurt.

Living together does not create a free atmosphere where both parties can come and go as they please. It just doesn't work that way.

Dear Pat and Marilyn:

Jim (not his real name) and I have been married for two years. We have our own home and I should be totally happy. But Jim was married before and has a son. The little boy plays baseball and Jim feels he must take him to each and every game.

Not only do I sit at home while Jim is attending the game, but his ex-wife attends every game and sits by my husband. I realize I am jealous but I'm fed up with this arrangement. Why can't Jim see that by sitting by his ex-wife rumors will surely fly?

I've spoken to my husband and all he says is, "I love my son and intend to be a part of his life."

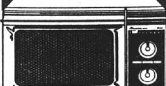

I've been thinking about having a baby to keep my husband home. He could then lavish some of this affection on OUR child. What do you think?

Dear Jealous:

It would be wrong to have a child to solve your jealousy. It would only complicate your problem.

Learn to enjoy baseball and attend the game. I doubt if Jim's ex-wife will sit with the two of you. Where's your ingenuity, gal?

so new, so different, it will be her most prized appliance!

Job Interviewers Ready For Students at SIUE

With job interviewers already on campus, students at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville who will be looking for employment in the next year should consult Placement Services as soon as possible, according to Max Hansel, acting director.

"The searching season for our students is six to nine months, but too many student wait until 30 days before graduation to see us," Hansel said. "They miss many opportunities for interviews by waiting so long."

Hansel said the tightening job market in the last two years has meant increased demands on University Placement Services which serves all students and alumni of SIUE free of charge.

"People today are more concerned about what will happen after their degrees are granted," Hansel said. "In many fields our on-campus recruitment which serves all students and alumni of SIUE free of charge, we've bottomed out and think we're way back up. I don't see any immediate dramatic improvement."

Hansel said from Oct. 1 through June, 1973, about 80 businesses and 15 governmental agencies have scheduled on-campus job interviews. About 10 schools districts have scheduled interviews, but that number will increase after January, when schools "start thinking SERIOUSLY about hiring for the approaching school year," he said.

Positions in sales and with public accounting firms have held up during the downturn, Hansel said, and so have some teaching areas, especially special education.

"Where we've had difficulty is in placing liberal arts majors in history, English and other subjects," he said.

In 1972, Placement Services records indicate about 50% of SIUE Education Division graduates found teaching jobs. Hansel said that 50% compares with almost every public university in Illinois. In previous years the figure was closer to 60%, he said. About 40% of Business Division graduates from SIUE found jobs in their field this year, also down from previous years.

Hansel said statistics are not reliable because some students never report whether they found jobs. Also, some graduates never look for jobs in their field and others, especially married women with children, will not accept job offers if they mean relocating outside of this area.

Harper, Cox Win National Awards For Work at SIUE

Terry Harper, a graphics designer at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville has won seven national awards, and Charles H. Cox, campus photographer, has won four national awards in the 1972 competition sponsored by the University and College Designers Association.

Harper's awards included four first places, one special merit and two merit awards. The SIUE total graphic identity program, designed by Harper, won first place in the national competition along with his entries in the publications improvement category, the design of the SIUE Distinguished Service Award and a kit for the master of fine arts program.

He won a "special merit" award for his work on "Guidelines", a brochure for the admissions office. Merit awards went to Harper for his design work on a poster and the Association of Collegiate Veterans Newsletter.

Cox won first place in category photography for a color picture of the SIUE Religious Center taken at sunset. He also won special merit awards for pictures of construction work being done at the Religious Center and for black and white photographs of a peep ring in "Guidelines". The Religious Center sunset picture appeared in a recent issue of World magazine. The merit award to Cox was for photographs of a Japanese pottery demonstration.

More than 470 entries were judged in the national competition, representing work from 62 colleges and universities.

REV. H. A. VAN HORN

Free Methodist to Host Church Crusade

The Rev. H. A. Van Horn of Greenville, Ill., will conduct a Christian witness crusade entitled "Families for Christ" at Central Free Methodist Church, 22nd and State streets beginning today at 7 p.m.

In preparation for the Key 73 program recognized by the Central committee, the crusade will continue each evening through Oct. 29, according to the Rev. Eugene Stevenson, pastor of the host church.

The Rev. Van Horn is a retired minister of the Free Methodist Church and has pastored in St. Louis and other areas of the Central Illinois Conference.

Open Democratic Canvass

A Democratic foot canvass of homes in the Quad-City area began during the weekend and will continue through election day, Nov. 7. About 50 volunteers, including many county candidates, took part in the weekend drive, helping to distribute about 25,000 pieces of campaign literature to homes.

SHOTGUN, RIFLE STOLEN

Joe Suecia, 2912 Grand Ave., reported during the weekend that a noise aroused him and his son, and as he approached the basement, several boys ran out. Missing were a 410 gauge shotgun and a .22 caliber rifle. A large assortment of musical instruments were ready to take out. Entry was gained through a rear window.

A "Citizens for Nixon" headquarters has officially opened with ribbon cutting ceremonies at 1940 State St. and will be open from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Mondays through Saturdays.

Robert Thomas, candidate for re-election to the office of Madison County coroner, cut the ribbon before a large crowd, including GOP candidates Lloyd Bentley for clerk of the circuit court, Don Ubach for county auditor, Tony Olsen for state senator, Tom Welsh for state's attorney, Ralph Astor for recorder of deeds, John Mangiaracino for trustee of the East Side Levee and Sanitary District, and Thomas.

Features Saturday will be "Women's Day for the President." Refreshments will be served throughout the day at the headquarters.

Continue Commercial Use of SUE STUDIOS

The practice of renting television equipment at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville to outside producers will continue although the production of political advertising programs has been halted, John Rendleman, president of SUE, announced this week.

Rendleman said he ordered the production of political ads halted "for fear of giving the University any appearance of being partisan."

He added that he has "no objection at all" to continuing non-political commercial television work at the campus to help defray the costs of maintaining the color television equipment.

John R. Rider, chairman of the mass communications faculty at SUE, agreed, saying outside users are necessary to maintain the university's color studio and equipment and that commercial work provides income while training students.

"If we didn't, we would have to severely curtail all our activities in TV, including some of our classes," he said.

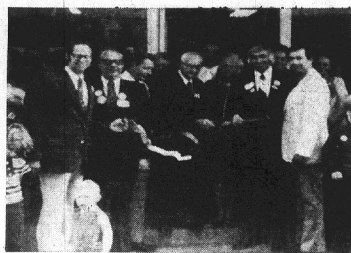

Rider said the SUE television department is "the leader in the country in experimentation in the television art."

HOUSE BURGLARIZED

Robert McFarland, 2501 E. 23rd St., reported during the weekend that a tape recorder, stereo receiver, amplifier and two speakers were stolen in a burglary of his home. The items were valued at $1,600. Entry was gained through a window.

BOYS DAMAGE AUTO

Roberta Jackson, 248 Bern Ave., reported during the weekend that while she was attempting to drive from the National Food Store lot, 10 boys walking in front of her auto and one of them broke her windshield with a large brick.

After-School Remedial Classes Ok'd at Venice

After-school remedial reading and math programs for students in Venice schools were approved Monday night by the Venice School Board.

The program, funded under the Title I program, will offer special training for students who enroll in the classes from 3:15 to 4:15 p.m. daily. The board also authorized the filing of applications for Title I funds for the 1973-74 school year.

School Superintendent John Pier reported that all work at the schools has been completed under the first priority requirements of the Life Safety Code, and the architect has certified the completion.

Bids paid for the work included balances of $9,250 to R. Dren Electrical Co., Inc., and $2,894 to Ed Moore Construction Co.

The board confirmed that the prior action of raising the admission prices to high school basketball games will not affect admission prices for elementary school grades. Admission to the grade school games will remain at 20 cents for students and 40 cents for adults.

Authorize Club

Permission was granted for the formation of a Venice Red Devils Booster Club to raise funds for varsity athletics and to assist the athletes in purchasing equipment.

A request from the students and teachers at Venice-Lincoln Technical Center for a students' lounge was approved. The teachers agreed to maintain proper supervision over students in the facility. The lounge is to be furnished with donations from the community.

It was announced the Technical Center will be closed tomorrow as the teachers attend an adult continuing education conference.

An offer from Consolidated Aluminum Corp. (Conalco) to donate a scoreboard for the Technical Center gymnasium received tentative approval from the board. Final approval is expected after questions concerning ownership, insurance and other matters are resolved. Pier was requested to investigate the cost of replacing a damaged curtain on the high school gymnasium stage.
